BALTIMORE:

PUBLISHED BY LUCAS BROTHERS,

NO. 170 BALTIMORE STREET.

PREFACE.

In presenting to the public the 25th number of the METROPOLITAN CATHOLIC ALMANAC, the publishers have the satisfaction to state, that reports were received from most of the dioceses in the Union, and in regard to the remainder they had no alternative but to reprint the reports of last year. All the reports should be in the hands of the publishers, by the 15th of October, in order to have the Almanac ready for sale in the beginning of December. Were this suggestion attended to, the diocesan information could be arranged in the order of the ecclesiastical provinces to which it belongs: but, as the case has been hitherto, with but few reports in hand when the work was put to press, it was impossible to observe any other order than that in which the information was received. This, however, is no source of inconvenience to the reader, because he can readily find any diocese by referring to the table of contents; but, we mention the subject, for the purpose of enlightening those who complain of the want of order in the Almanac, and also to request more particular attention to the despatch of the diocesan reports at the time mentioned in the circular. In this number of the work will be found a tabular statement of the different religious Orders and Congregations employed in the instruction of youth and in works of charity in the U. States. It is hoped that the heads of educational and charitable institutions will enable the publishers to render these interesting statistics still more valuable, by reporting more particularly hereafter the number of students, free scholars, orphans, and patients in the various establishments under their charge.

The publishers tender their acknowledgments to the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Bishops and to the Rev. Clergy and others, for their assistance in the compilation of the Almanac, and respectfully request a continuance of their aid in the preparation of future numbers of the work.

CELESTIAL PHENOMENA.

ECLIPSES IN THE YEAR 1857.

There will be only two Eclipses this year, both of the Sun.

I. A total Eclipse of the Sun, March 25th. In all that part of the United States west of the meridian of Washington, or of longitude 77° west of Greenwich, the Eclipse will be partial and visible, but east of Washington, the Eclipse will be invisible.

At Rochester, Harrisburgh, Washington, Richmond, and Wilmington, N. C., the Eclipse will begin at the time of sunset. At New Orleans, Memphis, Springfield, Ill., Chicago, and Milwaukee, the Eclipse will be at the middle, or largest, at the instant of sunset. The size of the Eclipse will vary from a mere contact of limb to 9.75 digits in the United States, being largest along the Mississippi river. At Chicago, the size will be 5½ digits; at Springfield 6 digits; and at New Orleans 9.75 digits.

The time of beginning of the Eclipse from Washington, west to the Mississippi, will vary from two or three minutes, to forty-five minutes before sunset. The Sun will set partially eclipsed, West of Washington.

II. An annular Eclipse of the Sun, September 17th, at about midnight in the United States, and hence invisible.

NOTE.—The Eclipse of March 25th will be total in the Gulf of Mexico, in latitude 24° north, longitude 90° 14' west, and thence westward and southerly through the Pacific Ocean to Australia.

RISE AND SETTING OF THE PLANETS.

It should be observed that these are not sensibly affected by the longitude of a place. When the hour is less than 6, it is in the morning; when greater than 6, it is in the evening.

TRUE TIME.

Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given to the nearest second, for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each calendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark, adding or subtracting as the sun is slow or fast.

Old fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre, and make no allowance for the effect of refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper-limb, and duly allow for refraction.

MORNING AND EVENING STARS, 1857.

Venus will be Evening Star until the 8th of May, then Morning Star the remainder of the year. It will be brightest April 4th, visible in the West; and June 15th, visible in the East in the morning.

Mars will be Evening Star until June 7th, then Morning Star the rest of the year. Jupiter will be Evening Star until April 11th, then Morning Star until November 3d. Saturn will be Evening Star until July 10th, then Morning Star the rest of the year.

MERCURY.

This planet will be brightest about Jan. 12th, May 5th, Aug. 2d, and Dec. 27th, at which times it will be quite likely to be visible, being then in the West immediately after sun-set. It will again be brightest about Feb. 28th, June 27th, and Oct. 19th, when it will be in the East just before sunrise.

COMMANDMENTS.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. "I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt not have strange gods before me. Thou shalt not make to thyself a graven thing, nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the waters under the earth. Thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them."
2. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."
3. "Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day."
4. "Honor thy father and thy mother."
5. "Thou shalt not kill."
6. "Thou shalt not commit adultery."
7. "Thou shalt not steal."
8. "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."
9. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."
10. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods."

COMMANDMENTS OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Catholic church commands her children, on Sundays and holydays of obligation, to be present at the holy sacrifice of mass, to rest from servile works on those days, and to keep them holy.
 2. She commands them to abstain from flesh on all days of fasting and abstinence; and on fast days to eat but one meal.
 3. She commands them to confess their sins to their pastor at least once a year.
 4. She commands them to receive the blessed sacrament at least once a year, and that at Easter, or during the paschal time.
 5. To contribute to the support of their pastor.
 6. Not to marry within the fourth degree of kindred, nor privately without witnesses; nor to solemnize marriage at certain prohibited times.
- N. B. 1. The fourth council of Lateran, Can. 21, ordains that "every one of the faithful, of both sexes, after they come to the years of discretion, shall in private faithfully confess all their sins, at least once a year, to their own pastor; and take care to fulfil, to the best of their power, the penance enjoined them; receiving reverently, at least at Easter, the sacrament of the eucharist, unless perhaps by the counsel of their own pastor, for some reasonable cause, they judge proper to abstain from it for a time: otherwise let them be excluded out of the church whilst living; and when they die, be deprived of Christian burial."
2. The time for the performance of the Easter-duty, may be extended within the United States, from the first Sunday of Lent to Trinity Sunday, both inclusively.
 3. The solemnizing of marriage, that is, the celebration of the rite during the mass pro sponso et sponsa, or with a display of festivity, is prohibited from the first Sunday of Advent till after Epiphany, and from the beginning of Lent till after Low Sunday.

FASTING DAYS.

Friday in Advent. Every day in Lent, Sundays excepted. The Ember Days (see below.) The Vigil of Whitsunday or Pentecost, of the Assumption, of All-Saints, and of Christmas.

N. B. 1. When a fasting day falls upon a Sunday, it is kept on the Saturday preceding that Sunday. To fast, consists in abstaining from flesh-meat, and eating but one full meal in the day, not before 12 o'clock, m. Besides this, a collation, or about the one-fourth of a meal, is allowed in the evening. All who have completed their 21st year are obliged to observe the fasts of the church, unless exempted for some legitimate cause.

2. In some of the western dioceses the Friday of the Ember days is the only Friday in Advent on which there is an obligation to fast.

3. It has been directed by the sacred Congregation de Propaganda Fide, that the feast of SS. Peter and Paul be solemnly celebrated in the United States, on the Sunday immediately after the 29th of June, and it is the wish of the Sacred Congregation that the Rt. Rev. Bishops exhort the faithful under their charge, to keep fast on the Saturday preceding that solemn celebration.

DAYS OF ABSTINENCE.

All Fridays and Saturdays, except those Saturdays which fall between the 25th of Dec. and the 2d of Feb., inclusively,* and all the Sundays in Lent. When Christmas falls on a Friday, abstinence is not of precept.

* Abstinence on Saturday has been dispensed with, for the faithful of the U. States, for the space of twenty years, from the year 1840, except when a fast falls on that day.

EMBER DAYS.

Spring—Mar.....	4, 6, 7.	Autumn—September.....	16, 18, 19.
Summer—June.....	3, 5, 6.	Winter—December.....	16, 18, 19.

The ember-days are the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, which occur 1st, in winter, immediately after the 3d Sunday of Advent; 2d, in the spring, immediately after the 1st Sunday in Lent; 3d, in the summer, during Whitsun-week; 4th, in the autumn, immediately after the 10th of September. They are days of fasting and are of great antiquity in the church. The object of their observance is, to consecrate to God the four seasons of the year, by penance; to obtain his blessing on the fruits of the earth, and to beg of him worthy ministers of the church. The ordination of clergymen generally takes place, in Catholic countries, on the ember-days.

HOLYDAYS OF OBLIGATION.

The Circumcision of our Lord—The Epiphany—The Annunciation of the B. Virgin Mary—The Ascension of our Lord—Corpus Christi—The Assumption of the B. Virgin Mary—All Saints—Nativity of our Lord or Christmas.

N. B. 1. Sundays and the feasts which fall on them, are not included in this enumeration.

2. In some of the Western Dioceses the Circumcision, Epiphany, Annunciation, and Corpus Christi, are not holydays of obligation.

3. The sanctification of Sundays and other holydays of obligation consists, 1st, in abstaining from servile work, from all commerce and manual labor, which is not necessary for the worship of God and the support of life; 2d, in returning to God by penance, cleansing our conscience, receiving the Sacraments, and performing other duties of religion. Among these duties, that of assisting at the holy sacrifice of Mass is the principal, and is binding under pain of mortal sin, unless sickness or some other important reason dispense us from this obligation. Though a person may be said to obey to the letter the precept of the church, by hearing Mass, it is certainly a great abuse to restrict to this point only, the whole sanctification which the law of God prescribes. To be satisfied with assisting at low Mass, without performing any other act of religion, as many Christians do, is to go against the spirit of the Church in that particular commandment, to disobey other commandments she has imposed, and not to satisfy the commandments of God.

LITURGICAL INSTRUCTION.

Explanation of the Ornaments and Ceremonies used in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

All the external rites used in the celebration of the holy mysteries are intended for the instruction of the faithful. The chief design of these rites is to commemorate and to represent the passion and death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This is plainly to be observed in the altar and its ornaments, as also in the vestments which are worn by the priest.

As to the color of the ornaments with which the priest celebrates the holy mysteries, the White is used on the festivals of our Lord, of the B. Virgin Mary, and of all the saints who are not martyrs.

The Red is used on Pentecost, on the finding and Exaltation of the Cross, and on the Feasts of the Apostles and Martyrs.

The Purple or Violet, which is the penitential color, is used on all the Sundays and Ferias of Advent, and during the whole of the penitential time from Septuagesima Sunday till Easter; as also on all Vigils, Ember Days, and Rogation Days, when the office is of them.

The Green is used on all Sundays and Ferias from Trinity Sunday to Advent exclusively, and from the octave of the Epiphany to Septuagesima Sunday exclusively, when the office is of the Sunday; but in the Paschal time the White is used.

The Black is used on Good Friday, and in Masses of Requiem for the dead; which may be said on any day that is not a Sunday or a double, except from Palm Sunday to Low Sunday, and during the Octaves of Christmas, of the Epiphany, of Pentecost, and of Corpus Christi.

EXPLANATION OF THE CALENDAR.

Ap signifies Apostle—App Apostles—M Martyr—MM Martyrs—P Pope—B Bishop—C Confessor—D Doctor—Ab Abbot—V Virgin—Wid Widow—SS Saints—D M Days of the Month—D W Days of the Week—† marks the days of indulgence—hym. ch. means the change in the hymn Iste Confessor.

The prayers and portions of the Holy Scriptures of which the Mass is composed, are in part the same, and partly different every day. Those fixed are contained in the Ordinary of the Mass, at the beginning of the Missal. The parts changeable or proper are—the Introits, Collects, Gradual, Tracts, Epistles, Gospel, Offertories, Secrets, Communion, and Post-communions—form the subsequent contents of the book. As the Prefaces are not so frequently subject to change, they follow each other in regular succession in the Ordinary of the Mass.

If a double fall on a Sunday, then the Mass of the double is said instead of that of the Sunday, unless it be a privileged Sunday, such as the first Sunday of Advent or Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Pentecost, and Trinity Sundays, which are never superseded. The Sundays of the second class, which cannot be superseded except by doubles of the first class, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent, Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima; as also the second, third, and fourth of Lent. It must, however, be remarked that the gospels of Sundays thus superseded by doubles are never omitted, but are recited at the end of the mass, instead of St. John's gospel; and also that a commemoration of the Sunday, by its proper collect, secret, and post-communion, is always made immediately after the collect, &c., of the festival.

As it sometimes happens that a double is transferred to some future vacant day, on account of the octave of some festival of higher rank intervening, then the difficulty of finding out the day on which such transferred festival is celebrated, as well as the other principal difficulties regarding the service, may be easily removed by consulting the following DIRECTORY, as a guide to the morning as well as the evening service of the church:

1. The office of every day is either double, semi-double, simple, or of the feria.

Of doubles (so called because the anthems are repeated entire, both before and after the psalms at Vespers) some are of the first class, marked thus in the calendar: doub. 1st cl.; others of the second class, and are marked thus: doub. 2d cl.; others are greater doubles, marked gr. doub.; others common doubles, marked doub., or d.

2. Doubles are kept on the day marked in the calendar, unless they fall on some Sunday of the first or second class, some privileged feria, or with certain octaves which take the place of the festivals; in which case they are transferred to the first day not marked either as a double or a semi-double.

Doub. 1st cl. denotes a great solemnity; doub. 2d cl. a lesser solemnity; greater double marks the feast to be of higher rite than a common double; double is the common and most general rank of saints; semi-double is less than a double; simple shows the feast to be of the lowest rite; fer., or feria day, is a week day having no feast; great fer. are weeks in Lent, Advent, &c.; Vig. vigil, is the eve of a great solemnity.

The Sundays of the 1st class which take place of all doubles are—

The first Sunday of Advent, first Sunday of Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Low, Whit and Trinity Sundays.

The Sundays of the second class which take place, also, of all doubles except those of the first class, and of which, in that case, a commemoration is made at mass and in both vespers, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent; septuagesima, sexagesima, and quinquagesima, the second, third, and fourth of Lent.

The ferias, which enjoy the same privileges as Sundays of the first class, are Ash-Wednesday, All Holy Week, Whitsun Eve, the whole octaves of Easter and Whitsuntide.

In like manner within the octave of Epiphany, no feast less than a first class can be kept.

On all other Sundays of the year, if a double occur, it is kept with a commemoration of the Sunday at Mass, and at Vespers also, except the following day be a feast of the first class.

3. A semi-double (so called because only a part of the anthem is said before each psalm at vespers) is marked in the calendar thus, semid., and occurring on any Sunday whatsoever, is put off to the first vacant day; that is, the first day on which there is neither double nor semi-double marked in the calendar. The same is to be observed of all semi-doubles occurring within the octave of Corpus Christi.

4. Simples have no mark in the calendar, and are never transferred; but if they fall on Sunday, or on any other day when the office cannot be said of them, a commemoration is made of the first vespers, and at mass; unless it be a feast of the first class, (on which no notice is taken of simples,) or of the second class, in which case a commemoration of them is made in the Lauds, and at a low private mass only.

5. The following ferias, called greater ferias, take place of all simples of which there is only a commemoration made at mass, viz: the ferias of Advent and of Lent, the Ember Days, and Tuesdays in Rogation Week. A commemoration is also made of the ferias of Advent, Lent, at vespers and mass, whatever feast happens; but of the Ember Days and Tuesday in Rogation Week, only at mass.

6. If a vigil happen within the octave, then the vigil, with a commemoration of the octave, unless there be a double or a semi-double feast that day, in which case the mass is of the feast, with a commemoration of the octave and of the vigil. But if a vigil occur on a feast of the first class, there is no commemoration made of it.

If a festival that has a vigil, fall on a Monday, the mass of the vigil is said on the foregoing Saturday, except the vigil of Christmas and of the Epiphany.

If a vigil happen in Advent, the mass is of the vigil, with a commemoration of the feria, except the vigil of Christmas.

If a vigil happen in Lent, or on an ember day, the mass is of the feria, with a commemoration of the vigil.

In the paschal time there is no office of vigil, except that of Ascension Eve, which, however, is no fast.

7. When several festivals have been translated from their proper days, they are afterwards to be kept in this order: first, those that are doubles, and then those that are semi-doubles; and among the doubles or semidoubles, those whose proper days first occurred are to be kept first.

8. Coll. or Collect, signifies the oration or prayer. Upon all doubles one collect, secret or post-communion, only, is said; except they fall on a Sunday, or within the same octave, or upon some vigil, or in the time of Lent or Advent, or except it occurs with some simple; in all such cases, two collects, &c., are said; one of the double, the other of the Sunday, octave, &c.

Upon Sundays, and all semidoubles, are said three collects, secrets or post-communions; excepting Sundays which occur within an octave, on which are said two collects, &c., one of the Sunday, the other of the octave.

The second and third collects, secrets, and post-communions, to be said on Sundays and semidoubles in the different seasons of the year, are specified in their proper places.

Upon semidoubles occurring within octaves, or on vigils, &c., the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are a commemoration of the octave or vigil; and the third of the B. V. M., but within the octaves of the Blessed Virgin, the third is of the Holy Ghost.

On semidoubles in Advent, the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are the collect, &c., of the foregoing Sunday; the third of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Upon simples and ferias three collects, &c., are said; but if the priest please he may say five or seven, to be taken out of the divers prayers in the common.

9. When the bishop of a diocese appoints a collect to be said at mass, it is to be placed after the collects of the day, and cannot be substituted for the collect which is marked ad lib. This prayer prescribed by the bishop, is said at all masses, except that of the first class, and conventual and high mass of second class; at low mass of 2 cl. it may be said or omitted. It is omitted also on Christmas eve, vigil of Pentecost, Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, and Holy Saturday.

10. Upon week days which have no proper office, nor any saint's day occurring thereon, the mass is of the foregoing Sundays.

11. Upon days within octaves, when no proper mass is assigned, the mass is said as on the feast, with three collects, &c. N. B.—The days within octaves are kept as semidoubles only.

12. The collect of the B. V. M., within octaves on vigils and on semidoubles within paschal time, is found in the votive mass of the Blessed Virgin Mary, from Advent to Christmas the collect of the B. V. M. is read in the mass of first Sunday of Advent, from Christmas to Candlemas the collect of the Blessed Virgin, as in the mass of the Circumcision.

13. The collects for Church and Pope are seen in the mass of the first Sunday of Advent, one of them is only recited at the choice of the priest, generally they are said in turn, when mentioned in the Directory. The collect of the Pope is said on the anniversary days of his creation and coronation; the creation here signifies his election to the sovereign Pontificate.

14. On the anniversary day of the consecration of the bishop, the collect for his installation is said at mass by the clergy of the diocese. If the bishop be translated from another diocess, the collect is said on the anniversary of his translation, that is, the date of the pope's letter of translation. The collect of the bishop is the same as that of the pope, except that the names of the prelate and of the diocess are mentioned.

15. The words ad lib. signify that one is at liberty to recite any of the occasionally collects or prayers, found towards the end of the missal.

16. The gospels assigned on Sundays are never omitted. Wherefore if a double be kept on a Sunday, at the end of mass is read the gospel of the Sunday, instead of that of St. John; and the same is observed when a double or semidouble is kept on any day in Lent, or on a vigil or ember-day.

27. The Gloria in excelsis is said at Mass, whenever the Te Deum has been said after Matins; except at Mass on Holy Thursday and Holy Saturday, when the Gloria is said though the Te Deum is omitted in the office. The Gloria is omitted in Masses for the dead, in votive Masses, even during the Paschal time or an octave, except in the Mass de B. Maria in Sabbato, or de Angelis, or when the votive Mass is said for an important object or some public affair of the Church, and without the purple vestments.

18. Low Masses votive or of requiem for the dead, cannot be celebrated on Sunday or on a double feast. They are also prohibited from the vigil of Christmas to the octave-day of the Epiphany inclusively, and on Ash-Wednesday; also, from Palm-Sunday to Low-Sunday inclusively; moreover, from the Vigil of Pentecost to Trinity Sunday included, and during the octave of Corpus Christi.

19. High Masses of requiem for the dead, where the body is not present, are forbidden on double feasts; but where the body is present and unburied, they may be celebrated on Sundays (provided the parochial Mass be not omitted) and on doubles, even of the first class, which are not festivals of obligation. But these Masses, even when the body is present, are prohibited on the Nativity, Epiphany, and Ascension of our Lord, Easter-day, Pentecost, Corpus Christi, Assumption of the B. V. Mary, All-Saints, and the three days before Easter; also, on the feast of the principal patron, that of the titular saint, and such festivals as are celebrated with much solemnity.

20. The offices of the Sacred Passion, which are marked for the different Fridays of Lent are ad libitum: that is, they may be recited by those who wish, but there is no obligation to do so. The same is to be said of the office of the M. Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the Conception of the B. V. Mary on Saturday, during the year. But if any one of these offices be omitted, the office occurring on the day according to the rubrics, should be recited.

21. In the office of the B. V. Mary and during the octave, the hymns conclude with the strophe, Jesu tibi sit gloria, Qui natus es, &c.; and in the Respons. at Prime, is said Qui natus es, &c., unless otherwise marked. Also, from the first vespers of Christmas to the first vespers of Epiphany, on the feast of the Holy Name of Jesus, and during the octave Corpus Christi. The same is observed in the office of the Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the B. V. Mary on Saturdays, from Complin of the preceding day, (if even a commemoration of these offices be made) until None inclusively.

MEMOIR OF THE
REV. PIERRE FREDET, S.S.S.

Since the establishment of the Society of St. Sulpitius in the United States, in 1791, it has given to the American Church a long list of clergymen, distinguished for their talents, learning and piety. The name of Flaget, David, Maréchal, Dubourg, Eccleston and Chanche, recall the brightest ornaments of the episcopacy, while those of Nagot, Garnier, Tessier, Richard, Wheeler and Frédet, exhibit an equal claim to respect in the sacerdotal order. As missionaries or lecturers in the sacred and profane sciences, in the field of apostolical labor or in the seclusion of collegiate life, they display an example of fidelity and zeal which may not be unprofitably presented to the consideration of the clergy and of the faithful in general. In attempting to sketch a notice of the Rev. Mr. Frédet, who was called to the reward of his eminent virtue only one year ago, we much regret that we have not been able to procure more detailed information illustrative of his character and labors. This circumstance, however, will itself contribute to the honor of his name: for, it is probable that a short time before his death he destroyed such papers as would have thrown lustre upon his memory as a christian and a minister of God.

Rev. Pierre Frédet was born about the year 1801, in the town of Sebasat near Clermont, in Auvergne, a celebrated province of France. His family was one of the highest standing in his native place, and we have reason to believe, that during the empire of the 1st Napoleon his father was mayor of Sebasat, and displayed great courage and prudence in difficult passes in which he found himself during that stormy and eventful period. But his parents were equally distinguished for their christian piety; his mother particularly was a woman of sterling virtue, which seemed to pass with her milk to her offspring.

Mr. Frédet received his classical education at the college of Clermont, and though his modesty and humility induced him always to conceal every thing calculated to win for him the praise of others, it is well known that he passed with considerable distinction through his collegiate course. Having resolved to consecrate himself entirely to the service of God, he entered the ecclesiastical seminary of Clermont-Ferrand, under the direction of the clergy of St. Sulpice, and such was his natural aptitude for learning, and so successfully did he apply himself to the study of the sacred sciences, that he completed his theological course long before he had attained the age required for elevation to the priesthood. He improved this interval by discharging the duties of preceptor in a noble family.

After his promotion to the sacerdotal dignity, he deliberated upon the mode of life he should embrace, and he determined to become a member of the Society of St. Sulpice, which has for its object the education of young men, for the sacred ministry. The principal reason which led him to take this step, was the dread he had of the world, and the difficulties of the holy ministry which his humility represented to him as above the strength of his virtue. To prepare himself for the duties of Sulpitian life, he spent one year at the Novitiate of the society, called the Solitude, a delightful retreat a few miles from Paris, where the ecclesiastical student enjoys every facility for the acquisition of the sacerdotal spirit and his advancement in sacred learning. There every thing around him breathes the odor of virtue, and while he beholds inscribed on the doors of the different rooms, O beata solitudo, O sola beatitudo, he experiences the peace and happiness of seclusion from the world, and of the total consecration of oneself to that great work which Jesus Christ has pronounced the "one thing necessary."

From this holy retirement Mr. Frédet was sent by his superiors to Rhodéz, a city of France which has the reputation of supplying the country with the best theological heads. The students of the seminary are proverbial for application to study and for shrewdness in argumentation. It was here that the subject of this notice laid the foundation of that profound acquaintance with dogmatical theology for which he was so conspicuous in after life. After having discharged the duties of professor at Rhodéz during five or six years, divine grace suggested to him a sacrifice which, like Abraham of old, he did not hesitate to make, however painful to the feelings of nature. He heard the call, "Go forth out of thy country and thy father's house, and go into the land that I will show thee," and having conferred upon the subject with his superior, the venerable abbé Garnier, who from his own experience and observation was well acquainted with the wants of the Church in America, the latter readily acquiesced in his wishes, and sent him to Baltimore where his services were much needed as a teacher of divinity. He arrived in that city towards the close of the year 1831. Though it was a generous will to obey the order of Providence that had induced him to quit his native land, the sacrifice cost him much, and it pleased God that he should always retain a keen sense of the separation which had taken place, as a means of acquiring new merits.

From the time of his arrival in America to that of his last illness, a period of twenty-four years, he was attached to St. Mary's Seminary at Baltimore,* as professor of various branches of ecclesiastical learning, especially that of moral theology. For this important post he was eminently qualified, by a long and thorough course of study, by the experience he had acquired in teaching, and by his solid and penetrating mind. Mr. Frédet's acquirements were not of a superficial character. He had drunk deeply at the fountain of theological lore, and notwithstanding the perfect mastery which he possessed in discussing the innumerable and knotty questions which it presented, he continued to the very close of life an ardent and indefatigable student. He never entered the lecture-room, without having diligently prepared himself for the duty he was to perform, by the consultation of various authors and arranging in his mind the more important points on which he was to entertain the members of his class. By these rigid habits of application, he accumulated a fund of knowledge, equally vast and profound, which gave him the utmost facility in discoursing upon the sacred sciences. However abstruse or intricate the subject under consideration, it became comparatively shorn of its difficulties amid the flood of light cast upon it by his learned and comprehensive explanations. If it was a disputed point among divines, their different opinions were lucidly exposed and compared, and the more authoritative sentiment carefully presented as a rule for practical guidance. If it was a question, the solution of which depended upon the different aspects under which it could be considered, the analytical power of the professor was conspicuous in detecting and exhibiting, in the most satisfactory manner, the various phases of which it was susceptible.

Prior to the discontinuance of St. Mary's college, in 1852, Mr. Frédet was an assistant teacher of French in that institution; but he rendered more important services as professor of history, and was the only one, if we mistake not, that ever taught this essential branch of study in that academy. The exclusion, for many years, of this interesting and useful subject from the collegiate course, is only one of the many instances that might be cited, of the serious deficiency in the plan of studies as pursued in some of our literary institutions. But president Chanche, in assuming the direction of the college, was fully sensible, that after the study of intellectual and moral philosophy no knowledge was more imperatively demanded by the circumstances of American youth, than that of history. This branch of instruction, with ethics and elocution, may be said to hold the first place in forming young men for usefulness under a republican government. Eminently fitted for the office assigned him, Mr. Frédet entered upon its duties with an application equalled only by the high sense which he entertained of their importance. With his vast historical knowledge, he knew how to guard his students against the impure sources of information with which modern error has inundated society, while his discriminating judgment exhibited more particularly that outline of events which would prove most instructive to his hearers. His lectures on history were not a dry enumeration or assemblage of facts: they were accompanied with such observations as enlisted in a high degree the interest and attention of his class. It was in the performance of these duties that perceiving the lamentable deficiency of our elementary books on history, (for nearly all such works in the English language abound with the grossest misrepresentation of facts,) he gave to his lectures a more permanent form in the two excellent volumes of Ancient and Modern History, which are enduring monuments of his learning and zeal. The latter was published in 1842, and was followed a few years after by the former work. These volumes constitute the most accurate and most comprehensive compendium of general history that we possess in the English language. They are characterized by extensive research, the strictest impartiality and the most methodical arrangement. They are not a collection of separate histories; but they exhibit, during the different periods into which the whole subject is distributed, a panorama of the world as it then existed. As we move along the stream of time, we behold at every step the actual and relative condition of nations, with a particular view of the more prominent and instructive facts that distinguish their annals. Though it were desirable that the author had given a better insight into the structure or elements of society under the old Roman empire, had alluded more particularly to the influence of christianity upon slavery, and had described more minutely the character of the feudal system, his modern history abounds with judicious remarks and explanations, illustrative of the most important periods and events, and throws a flood of light upon certain points, as the crusades, the state of learning during the middle ages, and other subjects which are almost always perverted by the prejudices of English writers. Where an invincible love of truth controlled the pen of the author, it was necessary that he should frequently differ in his statements from the false representations of Hume, Gibbon and other enemies of the Church; and this is undoubtedly his highest claim to merit as an historian. But this very feature of his work naturally aroused the hatred of bigots, and drew upon him the most insulting treatment. Several communications, filled with invective, were addressed to him through the post-office, and one writer particularly, in the far West, had the meanness to vent his spleen against him in the shape of a missive, which contained, besides a volley of abuse, a quantity of dirt and a heavy weight to increase the postage. But, despite the public and private efforts of an anti-catholic opposition, the historical productions of Mr. Frédet were appreciated by a discerning community, and have grown steadily in the estimation of the schools. The fact of their having been adopted as text-books in the Catholic institutions of learning in the United States, and particularly in the Catholic University of Ireland, is a sufficient evidence of their high character, and shows that they have, to a great extent if not fully, supplied the desideratum that was so long felt in this department of scholastic literature. The following remarks of the author in his preface to Modern History, exhibit the solid views and lofty and virtuous sentiments that guided his pen, and indicate the advantages that he expected to be conferred by his writings.

“History is an immense repository, whence we may, with little labor, derive knowledge, and draw many instructive and useful lessons; nor is there any study (except that of religion) better calculated to improve all the faculties of the soul. By its means, the memory is furnished with a multitude of interesting events; the judgment continually improves, from the assiduous attention that is given to objects well deserving of notice; and experience, so necessary in life, is easily acquired, because we appropriate to ourselves that of others, and become wise at their expense. History conduces also wonderfully to the improvement of the heart. Every where it affords moral examples adapted to the different stations and conditions of social life. Every where it presents to our imitation morals of courage, of patriotism, probity, disinterestedness, generous sentiments and heroic actions. Its pages, indeed, are frequently filled with the narrative of various crimes, but these it mentions only to inspire us with horror for them, and to convince every one that unruly passions, besides degrading humanity, generally prove the cause of the subversion of empires, not less than of the ruin of private individuals and families. History gives us another very important instruction, in the continual change and succession of kingdoms and empires. There we behold the all-wise and powerful Providence of God displaying itself in the course of human affairs; sometimes granting to his people good and virtuous rulers; at other times, permitting political storms to burst forth, wars to rage, and wicked men to reign for the chastisement of nations; then deriving good from evil, and secretly, though not less effectually, regulating all events, even those in which our limited reason can perceive only the agency of creatures. Thus we are taught to humble ourselves under the mighty hand of God, to refer every prosperous effect to Him, as its only real and independent cause, and to expect from Him alone a lasting happiness.”

This extract may serve as an illustration of the general style of the writer. English not being his vernacular tongue, he was deficient in purity and elegance of expression, though his language is not destitute of force and precision. Accustomed to the most logical habits of thought, he naturally fell into the stiffness of the scholastic forms; but this circumstance, if it gave him a preference for the style châtié, the unadorned expression of his ideas, made him rigidly exact in enunciating his thoughts with perspicuity.

As a doctrinal and controversial writer, Mr. Frédet holds a conspicuous rank. Though his occupations in the college and seminary left him but little time for other labors, he willingly lent his aid, beyond the immediate sphere of duty, for the diffusion of religious knowledge and the vindication of catholic truth against the assaults of its adversaries. During the existence of the Catholic Tract Society of Baltimore, from 1839 to 1844, he contributed most of the original essays published by that excellent association.* The seven tracts which came from his pen, on the Inspiration and Canon of Scripture, the Original Texts and Translations of the Bible, the Interpretation of Scripture, the Necessity of Baptism, the Effects of Baptism and the Obligations attached to it, Lay Baptism, and the Doctrine of Exclusive Salvation, are all remarkable for sound instruction, powerful reasoning, and clearness of exposition, and may be referred to as among the very best treatises on these subjects that have ever appeared in the English language. Of the same solid and instructive character are the several articles which Mr. Frédet wrote for the United States Catholic Magazine, a monthly periodical commenced in 1842 and discontinued at the close of 1848, after having enlisted in the cause of truth some of the best talent in the country. His papers on the Catholicity of the Church, on its Infallibility, on The Absolving power, on Sacramental Confession, and on the Supremacy of the Pope, display equal learning and solidity of reasoning, and may be consulted with great profit by the student of theology or the general reader, for the vast amount of information which they impart in a condensed form.

* When we think of the failure of this Society to continue its usefulness, while innumerable societies of a similar nature for the propagation of error move on in a tide of increasing prosperity, we cannot but feel the reproach uttered by our Saviour in the gospel: The children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light.

But, considering the result to which they led, the most important articles perhaps that he published in the magazine, were those relative to the Book of Ratramn, an English translation of which appeared at Baltimore in 1843, with a preface by the Rt. Rev. W. R. Whittingham, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Maryland. The design of this translation is thus forcibly stated by Mr. Frédet: "It has been frequently remarked that persons who are in danger of being drowned, seize with the utmost eagerness upon any support, how frail soever, that is to be found within their reach. The same now appears to be the case with the pastors of certain Protestant societies. Sensible of their daily losses, and of the corresponding spiritual conquests of the Catholic Church, they leave nothing untried to retard her progress; and being under the impossibility of entirely concealing the light from the eyes of their followers, they endeavor at least to obscure its brilliancy, and to prevent its sacred beams from producing all those effects which might cause their ranks to be entirely deserted. These reflections have been naturally suggested by the publication in England, and the late republication in America, of a little treatise on the Eucharist, written by Ratramn, a monk of the 9th century. The avowed purpose of the publishers is to make people believe, that neither Ratramn, nor the church of his time, admitted the dogma of transubstantiation, and consequently that this dogma is a mere novelty altogether unknown before the 9th century, and introduced into the Romish church at a subsequent period." Under these circumstances, Mr. Frédet did not hesitate to break a lance with the Protestant bishop of Maryland. In his first article on the subject, he showed with equal erudition and logical acumen, that the meaning of Ratramn had been grossly misrepresented in the translation, as appeared from a comparison of the latter with the original work, that Ratramn's belief, even according to the sentiments of learned Protestants themselves, was that of the Catholic Church, and that whatever may have been his faith on the Eucharist, no inference could be drawn from it unfavorable to Catholicity. In subsequent papers he exposed the tradition of the Church during the first eight centuries, proving the doctrine of the real presence and transubstantiation to have been always held throughout Christendom during that period, and confirming it by the argument of prescription which shows the impossibility of any change having ever taken place on this point. Such was the ability displayed by Mr. Frédet in the discussion of these topics, that several persons of learning, wisdom and experience advised him to publish his vindication of the Eucharistic dogma "under a more accessible form, and with additional evidences, without however exceeding the limits of a small volume." Such was the origin of A Treatise on the Eucharistic Mystery, or Defence of the Catholic Dogma of the Eucharist against the recent attacks of adversaries, a work in 18mo. of about one hundred and fifty pages, and for general purposes the most useful book that we possess in English on this vital question. It is divided into two parts, the first of which treats of the perpetuity of the Catholic faith on the subject of the Eucharist, and the second embraces the proofs of the real presence and transubstantiation, as derived from scripture, tradition, and the unanimous consent of all christian societies except the Protestant.

Catholic literature is likewise indebted to the learning and zeal of Mr. Frédet, for the English translation of Father Scheffmacher's Scriptural Catechism, and, had his life been continued a few years longer, he would have given to the world a history of the Christian Church from its origin to the present time. He had already made some progress in this work, for which he was eminently qualified, and which would have supplied an urgent want of our English Catholic literature.

These labors of Mr. Frédet as a professor and writer, formed but a part of that system by which he strove to sanctify himself by accomplishing the will of God. This was the end of all his thoughts and aspirations, and to perfect himself in this holy disposition he endeavored continually to overcome nature, that he might be governed in all things by the suggestions of grace. He was a scrupulous observer of the rules prescribed for the community in which he lived, and however devoted to his studies, he never allowed these occupations to trench upon the time allotted to prayer and other spiritual exercises. It was in prayer, in the fervent effusions of his soul before the Blessed Sacrament, that he acquired that spirit of total disengagement from the world, that invincible patience and resignation under the trials which he had to suffer, that admirable charity for the neighbor, and above all that profound humility which were conspicuous in his life. It may be said without any exaggeration, that he practised faithfully that sublime and difficult maxim of the spiritual life, as laid down by A Kempis, ama nesciri et pro nihilo reputari. It was no affectation of virtue, or as Rodriguez terms it, humility with a hook, that made Mr. Frédet averse to praise and distinction. He found a real satisfaction in concealing his merits from the notice of others, and shunning the applause which they might have attracted. If any thing could displease him, it was the word of praise uttered in regard to any of his actions. Although he had no superior, perhaps no equal in this country, in historical and theological knowledge, he would never consent to be a candidate for the degree of doctor of divinity, and when the honor was conferred upon him, he declined accepting it, and was always unwilling that the title should accompany his name. No ecclesiastic was better qualified than he, to aid in the discussion of the questions that occupied the attention of the different provincial councils of Baltimore: but he used every expedient consistent with propriety, to obtain a dispensation from attending synods; and he was known to undertake additional work at the seminary, by way of innocently bribing his superior to grant him that favor.

Mr. Frédet was all his life an unknown martyr, having been continually exercised in the practical science of the cross, by interior troubles which caused him the most intense suffering. He only who penetrates the inmost recesses of the heart, could know the extent and severity of his trials, and the innumerable acts of patience and resignation which they made him practise at every instant. A learned divine and profound casuist, he could readily solve the difficulties of others, while he could not solve his own. He that could unravel the most intricate questions, would be embarrassed by the simplest and clearest cases which regarded himself; the Almighty permitting this inward obscurity, for the purpose of purifying and enriching that great soul.

Schooled in tribulation himself, Mr. Frédet manifested the warmest sympathy at the afflictions of his neighbor. When he knew that any one of the students was suffering from interior trials, he did all in his power to console him, and by his enlightened suggestions to remove the impressions that disturbed his peace of mind. For the sick he was a true source of comfort, spending most of his leisure moments in their company, and entertaining them with the most instructive and interesting conversation. Towards all who approached him, his manner was not only courteous, but full of kindness, and he was ever ready to assist those who applied to him for information or advice.

By the constant practice of these virtues, he conformed literally to the standard of sacerdotal character, as furnished by St. Paul in his epistle to Titus: "In all things shew thyself an example of good works, in doctrine, in integrity, in gravity, the sound word that cannot be blamed: that he, who is on the contrary part, may be afraid, having no evil to say of us." The whole life of Mr. Frédet was but an illustration of what he taught and preached to others. In him the student of theology and all that listened to his instructions, beheld a practical and impressive application of the sublime truths of christianity, the end of which is but the knowledge and love of God. It was manifest, that the learned professor and solid expounder of religion had always before his eyes and in his heart those admonitory words of A Kempis: "What doth it avail thee, to discourse profoundly of the Trinity, if thou be void of humility, and consequently displeasing to the Trinity! In truth, sublime words make not a man holy and just; but a virtuous life maketh him dear to God. I had rather feel compunction, than know its definition. If thou didst know the whole Bible by heart, and the sayings of all the philosophers, what would it all profit thee without the love of God and his grace? Vanity of vanities, and all is vanity, besides loving God and serving him alone." So constantly and thoroughly did Mr. Frédet observe these maxims of holiness, that he avoided with the greatest scrupulosity the most trivial faults. One who knew him well, having lived with him under the same roof during eight years, has testified that during that whole period he never observed in his conduct what could be considered the matter of a venial sin.

After a life filled up by such honorable and useful labors, and sanctified by every christian and clerical virtue, he was prepared for the summons to render an account of his stewardship. In the fall of 1854, he began to feel, in an attack of paralysis, the effects of his arduous and intense application to study, and his declining health made it necessary for him to suspend his valuable services at the seminary. To recruit his strength, he retired to St. Charles' college, near Ellicott's Mills, but after a few months he returned to the city, to have the benefit of proper medical advice. In sickness as in health he was a model of patience, charity and humility, and by a perpetual union of his heart with God held himself in readiness for the final call. He closed his earthly career on the 1st of January, 1856, the feast of the Circumcision of our Lord, whose revelation he had zealously taught and preached, whose self-denial and humility he had faithfully imitated, and whose glory and happiness he hoped to share for all eternity.

TENTH SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
YOUNG CATHOLICS' FRIEND SOCIETY.
OF WASHINGTON CITY, D. C.

To the Members of the Young Catholics' Friend Society.

GENTLEMEN:—The present period, marking as it does the close of the fifth year of our existence as a Society, would seem to be a proper one at which to take a retrospective view of its operations, not only as a matter of interest to ourselves, but for the satisfaction and guidance of those who may succeed us in administering your charities.

Originating in the pressing necessity which existed, and had long been felt, for some organized agency which would provide, as far as possible, for the mental and physical wants of that large and interesting class—the minor children of destitute Catholic parents, or of those who were still more unfortunate who were without parents—our Society, avoiding entirely the field of proselytism, has confined itself to its legitimate purposes, and accomplished an amount of good which may well gratify its most ardent friends.

I propose, therefore, to present you with a concise statement of its receipts, expenditures, and results since the date of its organization.

At the close of the first year of its existence, the Society numbered 200 members. The receipts of the year amounted to $751.26—the expenditures to $590.14. The number of children benefitted during the year to 102.

The second year of its existence exhibits a list of members amounting to 282. The receipts were $1,074.73—and the expenditures $1,038.08. The number of children benefitted, 260.

Third year: number of members, 288. Receipts, 1,354.67—expenses, $1,036.88. Number of children benefitted, 85.

The fourth year shows the receipt of $1,051.84—while the expenditures for the same period were $993.86. The number of members near 300, and the number of children benefitted about 80.

The year just closed—perhaps more interesting to us than any other—exhibits the following results: Number of members, about 230. Number of children benefitted, 85. The receipts and expenditures have been as follows :

Affording a handsome sum with which to commence the heavy expenditures of the winter, and enabling the Board of Government to enlarge the bounds of our charity, should such a course be deemed advisable and prudent.

The entire Receipts during the five years, according to the records, have been about $5,003.76—the expenditures, $4,589.18; and the number of children benefitted, 612.

The largely increased revenue of the third year is attributable to the fact that at that period a sum of money amounting to $374.79, which had been collected by subscription for the purpose of establishing a school in the north-eastern part of the city, reverted to the treasury, and was absorbed in the ordinary expenditures of that and the succeeding year—the specific object for which it was raised having been found impracticable.

The marked disparity which exists between the number of children formerly receiving aid from the Society, and the number now so benefitted, would seem to require some explanation.

Our Society, gentlemen, was organised upon the same principle of action as those of Baltimore and other cities—which was, to provide proper clothing for the children of parents who from poverty might not be able to apparel them fitly to attend school. At that time the Christian Brothers had located themselves in Washington, and the fond hope was entertained not only that the Parish School of St. Matthew's, of which they had charge, would be permanently maintained, but that their establishments would be multiplied until the entire body of the Catholic children of the city would be blessed with the advantages which their presence among us partially dispensed. This anticipation, however, was unfortunately not realized, and in the third year of its existence, the Society found itself compelled either to entirely abandon the field of its usefulness or to accommodate itself to the exigency which existed. The latter course was, as we think, very properly adopted, and availing ourselves of the existence of two secular schools, kept by Catholic gentlemen, the system of paying for the tuition, as well as the clothing, of the children under our charge, was inaugurated. As a natural consequence, and from necessity, the number of the recipients of our bounty was materially lessened, although it is believed that a greater amount of practical and substantial good has been accomplished.

These schools have in turn been superseded by others and at this time the Society finds itself engaged in sustaining to the extent of its means in the mode indicated, the parish schools of St. Patrick's and St. Dominick's, and also the school kept for smaller boys by the Sisters of the Holy Cross in connection with St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum.—Whether we shall be able to continue the system of payment for tuition as well as clothing—especially in view of the ultimate establishment of Catholic parish schools throughout the city—or whether we shall be compelled to revert to our original plan of action are questions which time alone can determine. The alternative is not now presented and therefore we will not anticipate it.

Gentlemen we are engaged in a holy and a noble cause : and while we can but regret that so few comparatively of the large number of Catholic laymen of the city participate actively with us, yet we must congratulate ourselves upon the general degree of success which has attended our efforts, and especially on the liberality with which our appeals to the public in various forms have been met. We are impelled by every consideration divine and human, to unceasing and persevering exertion for the accomplishment of the objects in which we are engaged.

Our separated brethren however divided they may be in regard to points of doctrine, meet and act upon common ground in proselytizing among children of the Catholic faith, and the alienation of one such from the fold of Christ is regarded as an ample remuneration for any outlay of time, trouble, or money.

It is our province gentlemen to prevent such a consummation, and to aid the pastors of the Church in protecting the younglings of the flock, thus adding to its numbers and influence. The illustrious Archbishop of New York in a lecture delivered by him not many months since in one of the northern cities expressed the sentiment that to the rising generation we are to look for the future strength, growth and extension of the Catholic Church in America.

How important then the responsibilities under which we are acting? How consoling the reflection here, and how certain of reward hereafter if we shall have been instrumental in saving one soul from perdition, or in adding strength and support however infinitely small to that glorious edifice which, erected by Christ himself, has withstood the storms of eighteen hundred years and will continue to stand until all the members of the human family shall have been aggregated into the "one fold and under the one shepherd."

We cannot close this report without expressing the regret which I am sure you all feel at the loss experienced since our last meeting in the death of Wm. J. Fitzpatrick. Stricken suddenly down before the period of mid-age he has gone to the reward which we devoutly trust awaits him for his many virtues and his active services in behalf of the objects of this Society of which he was an original and constant member.—Owen Murray another most exemplary and worthy member of the Society has also gone down to the grave regretted and esteemed by all.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the Board of Government, the holy sacrifice of the Mass will be offered for their eternal repose at the end of one month from the time of their decease in the parish churches to which they were respectively attached.

INSTITUTIONS.

PREPARATORY SEMINARY OF ST. THOMAS,

Near Bardstown, Ky.

The object of this institution, conducted by clergymen of the diocese of Louisville, is to afford to such youths as feel inclined for the ecclesiastical state, an opportunity to ascertain and pursue their vocation. The Most Rev. Archbishop and the Rt. Rev. Bishops of the Province of Cincinnati, when assembled in council in May, 1855, adopted it as the Preparatory Seminary for the whole province. It is therefore under their special patronage; and the rules, plan of instruction, &c., are subject to their approbation.

The course of studies is a full classical one, embracing Latin, Greek, English, German, French, (with all the branches connected therewith,) Mathematics, and the elements of Natural Sciences. It is divided into six years—the Mathematics and Natural Sciences being reserved for the last. But students who may be desired by their Bishop to confine themselves to some of the branches taught, or who may possess endowments enabling them to advance faster than the generality, have every facility to finish in a shorter time.

There is but one session of ten months, beginning on the first Monday of September.

Terms.—Board, tuition in all the branches, washing, mending, books and stationery.....$ 85 00
 The above, with clothing furnished..... 115 00
 Payments to be made half yearly in advance.

For their own benefit and that of the Orphan Asylum, with which the Seminary is connected, the students will be employed one or two hours in teaching or otherwise in the institution.

Applicants are received from any part of the Union. In all cases a recommendation from their Bishop or their immediate Pastor is required.

For further particulars, the public are referred to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Louisville, to the Most Rev. Archbishop of Cincinnati, and the other prelates of the province.

APOSTOLIC VICARIATE OF UPPER MICHIGAN.*

This Apostolic Vicariate was established by his Holiness, Pius IX., on the 29th of July, 1853, and embraces the northern peninsula of the State of Michigan, and the adjacent islands. (This Apostolic Vicariate has been erected into a Diocese, under the name of the "Diocese of St. Mary," by a decree of the first provincial council of Cincinnati, celebrated in May 1855. But the confirmation of the decrees of this council had not yet arrived from Rome at the time of the issuing of this Report.) It is governed by the Rt. Rev. Frederic Baraga, Bishop of Amazonia, and Vicar Apostolic of Upper Michigan. The neighboring Bishops have ceded to Bishop Baraga part of their Indian Missions, those bordering on Lake Michigan and Lake Superior.

*This Report was furnished by the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

CHURCHES AND CLERGY.

UPPER MICHIGAN.

Saut St. Mary, Chippewa co., St. Mary's Church—Rt. Rev. Frederic Baraga, D. D., Rev. John B. Menet, S. J., Rev. Auguste Kohler, S. J., who for the most part resides at Garden River, on the Canada side of St. Mary's River, Diocese of Hamilton, Canada West. There are two Catholic schools at Saut St. Mary, one for boys, conducted by Bro. Adrian Lacoste, and one for girls, conducted by Ursuline Ladies. The first female Academy in Upper Michigan, for a higher education of young ladies, under the direction of the Ursuline Ladies, is now prepared for reception, and a few young ladies have already entered the Institution. (See Prospectus below.) The Archconfraternity of the Immaculate Heart of Mary for the conversion of sinners, and the Confraternity of the Holy Scapular are established in St. Mary's Church, and are placed under the direction of the Jesuit Fathers.

Mackinac, Michilimackinac co., St. Ann's Church—Rev. Eugene M. Jahan, pastor. Instructions after High Mass in French and English. Catechism twice a week. Three religious societies are established here, the Archconfraternity of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, for the conversion of sinners, the Confraternity of the Holy Scapular, and the Society of St. Vincent of Paul, for mutual relief and charity. This Society is under the superintendence of the Rev. E. M. Jahan, and is prospering and doing much good, by the indefatigable care of the zealous pastor. The Catholic congregation of Mackinac, under the direction and encouragement of their pastor, are making preparations for a new Church, which they hope to complete and pay in two years.

Point St. Ignace, Michilimackinac co., Church of St. Ignatius—This Mission is served from Mackinac by the Rev. E. M. Jahan, every second Sunday. Instructions after High Mass in French, and occasionally in Indian. A regular Catholic school is kept here for boys and girls. The Society of St. Vincent of Paul is established here, and is prospering.

Beaver Island, (Garden Island,) in Lake Michigan, Church of the Immaculate Conception of the B. V. Mary—attended from time to time from Cross-Village, Emmet co., by Father Weikamp, of the third order of St. Francis; or from Little Traverse Bay, Emmet co., by the Rev. Lawrence Lautishar. There is a numerous Indian school for boys and girls in this Mission, recently established, and conducted by Mr. William O'Donovan. The Indians of Garden Island are faithful and steady Christians. Although they seldom see their Missionaries, they faithfully persevere in the Catholic religion, and meet every Sunday in their humble Church to sing and pray, until the Missionary comes again to administer to them the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist, and to announce to them the word of God, which they receive with thankfulness and spiritual joy.

Marquette, Marquette co., Lake Superior, St. Peter's church—Rev. Sebastian Duroc, who also visits occasionally the iron mines of Marquette district. Preparations are making to build a new church, as the present temporary one is already too small for the increasing population.

D'Anse, Houghton co., Lake Superior, church of the Most Holy Name of Jesus—Rev. Edward Jacker, who also attends, once every month, the Portage Lake mining locations, where he preaches and hears confessions in English, German and French. The Indians of this mission are now permanently located on a large tract of land around their mission, which is secured to them by our government for ever. There is a numerous Cath. Indian school at L'Anse, for boys and girls, kept by Mr. Thomas Branen.

Eagle Harbor, Houghton co., church of the Most Holy Redeemer—Rev. Louis H. Thiele, who also visits from time to time all the mining locations of Keewenaw Point district, where he preaches and hears confessions in English, French and German. He especially visits every third Sunday the celebrated Cliff Mine, where he has a large congregation of Irish, Germans and Canadians. An acre of land was kindly given us by the North-American Mining Company, on a very fine elevated spot at the South-Cliff, on which preparations are making for the erection of a spacious church.

Ontonagan Village, Ontonagan co., St. Patrick's church—Rev. Lawrence Dunne, M. A., Pastor. High Mass at 10 o'clock every Sunday and Holyday, and sermons in English and French.

SOUTHERN PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN.

Cross-Village, or La Croix, Emmet co., church of the Holy Cross—Rev. Father John Bernard Weikamp, and Rev. Father Seraphin Zorn, of the Third Order of St. Francis. The Indians of this mission, in the beginning of their conversion in 1832, erected in their village a large cross, the emblem of our salvation, which was afterwards renewed; and from this cross the missionary village derives its name.—The Rev. Father Weikamp, who settled in October 1855 in our Indian Missions of Emmet co., with many Brothers and Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, is now building here a large church and two convents, one for the Brothers and one for the Sisters. A numerous and regular English school is kept at this mission; for the boys by a Brother, and for the girls by a Sister of the Third Order of St. Francis.

Middle Village, Emmet Co., church of St. Ignatius—attended every Sunday from Cross-Village by the Rev. Father Weikamp, or the Rev. Father Zorn; and occasionally by the Rev. L. Lautishar from Little Traverse Bay. A school has recently been established at this village, and is kept by a Brother of the Third Order.

Little Traverse Bay, Emmet co., church of the Holy Infancy of Jesus—Rev. Lawrence Lautishar, who also attends the missionary Station of Agaming, an the opposite side of the bay. There are regular English schools at Little Traverse Bay, for boys and girls, kept separately by a Brother and a Sister of the Third Order of St. Francis.

Sheboigan Village, Sheboigan co., church of the B. V. Mary—Occasionally served from Little Traverse Bay, by the Rev. L. Lautishar. An English school for boys and girls is kept here by Mr. Nicholas Murray.

Duncanville, Sheboigan co., Served occasionally from Mackinac, by the Rev. E. M. Jahan.

Eagletown, Grand Traverse Bay, Grand Traverse co., church of the B. V. Mary—Rev. Ignatius Mrak, who also visits occasionally several other towns and villages that are springing up around Grand Traverse Bay. There is an English school here for boys and girls, kept by the zealous missionary himself, and by Mr. Dusaulx.

WISCONSIN.

Lapointe, Lake Superior, St. Joseph's church—Rev. Angelus Van Paemel, Rev. Auguste Eugene Benoist. Instructions in French and Indian. This mission, indeed had declined much in consequence of a commenced removal of the Indians and Halfbreeds of Lake Superior; but most of them returned after the first excitement, and continue to live at Lapointe. Two separate English schools are kept there, by Mr. Michael Hickey for boys, and by Mrs. Isabella Ducheneau for girls.

Bad River, or Swamp River, about 20 miles south-east from Lapointe—Attended occasionally by the Rev. A. Van Paemel.

Superior, Fond du Lac, Lake Superior—served frequently from Lapointe by the Rev. A. Van Paemel. Instructions in English, French and Indian. The Catholics of Superior, consisting of Irish, Canadians and Halfbreeds, have purchased, under the direction of their zealous missionary, a large house, which will serve as a chapel, until they are able to build a regular church.

This Institution was opened on Monday, the 15th of September, 1856.

It is situated on one of the hills overlooking the city of Cincinnati, in a position unrivalled for healthy air and beautiful scenery.

Its object is to afford to pupils a thorough education under Catholic influences.

The regular classical and scientific course is of eight years, though students from other institutions will be allowed to enter the more advanced classes upon satisfactory examination.

The course of instruction embraces the Greek and Latin languages, Rhetoric, Logic, Mathematics, Surveying, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Astronomy, and Book-keeping.

The connection of the College with the Cincinnati Provincial Seminary, affords peculiar facilities for thorough instruction of the pupils in the German, French, and Italian languages.

The domestic arrangements of the Institution are under the superintendence of the Sisters of Charity.

The auspices under which this college is placed, and the cordial approbation extended to it by the Most Rev. Archbishop and the Clergy of the Diocese, are sufficient to warrant the confidence that it will deserve a high rank among Catholic institutions of learning, and amply reward the patronage which no doubt it will receive from the parents and guardians of youth.

In Western Virginia there are fine tracts of good land, which can be purchased at very low prices, and to which Catholic settlers are now turning their steps. In this part of the State the slave population is very small, and families of small means may expect to live comfortably and respected. Efforts are made to give spiritual attendance to all families, settling at places not too remote from the residence of the clergyman.

The railroads being made and projected, are imparting great value to portions of the State hitherto thinly settled.

An academy for young ladies will be opened by the Benedictine Sisters, in an eligible locality in Erie city during the year.

Parish Schools.—In both congregations at Erie, at St. Mary's-town, Frenchtown, near Meadville, Freyburg, St. Charles' Furnace, Newell Creek, Frenchville, Morris, and some others.

Priests Ordained.—Rev. Ignatius Reiser, Jan. 8, 1856.

" John L. Madigan, Aug. 6, 1856.

Remark.—The St. Marystown is a large settlement, exclusively Catholic, and affords most powerful attractions to German Catholics especially, who desire the advantages of society for themselves and schools for their children. The Sunbury and Erie Railroad, now in process of construction, passes through it, and will have the effect of opening to market the almost inexhaustible mines of coal and iron, which will soon make these lands sought after for speculation as well as settlement.

The northern portions of Potter and McKean counties from their proximity to the New York and Erie Railroad offer inducements equally great to the Irish emigrant, since two or three settlements (as at Newell Creek and Genesee) are already formed, where the Irish Catholic element preponderates, with the advantage of churches and schools.

The wild Indians (infidels) are very numerous; a great deal of good could be done among them, but unfortunately the number of clergymen is not sufficient even to attend to the wants of our Mexican population, which is all Catholic, and of our Catholic Pueblo Indians, whose number is not much under ten thousand. The following extract from a letter of Father A. Hoecken, S. J., dated March 10, 1856, shows that the Indians under the care of the Catholic missionaries in Washington Territory, have taken no part in the war against the whites:—

* Report from the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

"You will learn with pleasure that all our fellow-laborers are in the enjoyment of good health and that our missions, in this region, continue to prosper. War, with all its horrors, as you are already aware, is desolating the whole country west of our establishments. All the Indians have taken up arms against the whites. The Pointed-Hearts, the Spokanes, the Kettle-fall Indians, the Kalispels, the Pends d'oreilles, the Kootenays, the Flat-bows and the Flat-heads, are in a state of profound peace and tranquillity. All our Neophytes, thanks to God, do not show the least disposition to stir and to join the blind and unhappy warriors of other tribes, who foolishly hurry to their own destruction. Ours, I hope, will persevere in following the good advice already received, and which they still continue to receive. At Colville, the sale of gunpowder has just been prohibited, and Fort Walla-Walla has been abandoned. To the Indian, powder is necessary for hunting, on the success of which, in a great measure, the support of his life and family depends. Should this prohibition be extended so as to embrace those who have always been peaceable, and who have ever been on the most friendly terms with the whites, they will be exposed to the greatest miseries and sufferings. The Rev. Fathers Oblates, who were among the Yakomans, have been obliged to save themselves by flight: their mission among the Cayusas has been destroyed by fire. They are now at St. Paul's with our Fathers. The Agent, Dr. R. H. Lansdale, has commenced building his agency in the vicinity, where the Yako or Plum river joins Clark's fork. He is a most worthy gentleman, who takes great interest in the welfare of the Indians, and in our own success."

There is a numerous school under the direction of the Sisters of the Propagation of the Faith. This place promises to become very important if protected by the Government, as being the shortest and the safest communication with the English possessions. The first settlement of Pimbina, 20 miles from St. Joseph, possesses a large log church, under the title of the Assumption—it is visited from St. Joseph.

Blue Earth, among the Winnebago Indians, Our Lady of Seven Dolors—Rev. Canon Francis de Vivaldi, who has under his direction and superintendence of the Bishop of St. Paul, a numerous school of Indian children, instructed by some Sisters.

INSTITUTIONS.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

St. Paul, Minnesota.

There are four students of theology in the Seminary attached to the Bishop's house; four other students are preparing for the holy ministry in other dioceses.

BROTHERS OF THE HOLY FAMILY,

St. Paul, Minnesota.

Four Brothers of the Society of the Holy Family (a religious institution approved by the Church) arrived ten months ago in St. Paul, not only to take charge of the boys' school, but also to establish a novitiate of their order, which is calculated to produce a great deal of good, particularly in new missions; as according to their institutions, a single member may be sent alone, with a clergyman, in the capacity of teacher, sacristan, chorister, and catechist. A priest, member of this society, is expected to organize this novitiate, and form some subjects to the religious life, and make them fit members of the institute.

A numerous school for boys under the superintendence of Very Rév. A. Ravoux, is kept in spacious and elegant rooms of the lower story of the Bishop's house.

SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH,

St. Paul, Minnesota.

Their house (a brick building,) situated in a fine and healthy location on the highest point of the bank of the Mississippi, between the lower and upper town, affords spacious room for more than one hundred day-scholars and a good number of boarders.

The branches taught in this institution are the same usually taught in other academies of the Union. Besides reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and geography, plain sewing and all kinds of needle-work, they give lessons of sacred and profane history, elements of astronomy, chemistry, botany, literature, music, vocal and instrumental.

The terms for boarders, (always six months in advance,) are $100 per annum, with small extra charges, when the parents or tutors do not take the expenses of washing, mending, music, &c.

For further information apply to Mother Seraphine, Superior of the community, who, with her assistant, will exert herself for the proper instruction and training of her pupils.

SISTERS OF THE PROPAGATION OF THE FAITH.

Pimbina, Minnesota.

These Sisters, seven in number, conduct an English, French, and Indian school, and by their knowledge of the languages used by the different tribes, they are particularly qualified for the instruction of persons of their own sex and of children. They have 100 pupils in their schools. They receive boarders at the rate of $30 for six months. These sisters intend, as soon as circumstances permit, to extend their charitable labors to the sick.

An hospital, at St. Paul, all of stone, three stories and a half high, besides the basement, 75 feet by 34, in a fine location, on a large block given for the most part by Mr. H. Price, is completed. It affords room enough in its different divisions, for a novitiate for the Sisters: for an orphan asylum, and many patients.

Temperance Society and Benevolent Society.

Most of the members of the society of the Living Rosary, and of the Archconfraternity of the Sacred Heart of Mary, have formed a charitable confraternity for the relief of the poor and of the sick, the religious instruction of children, and the decent support of the sanctuary.

REMARK.—The diocese is blessed with good schools at Little Rock and Fort Smith, but stands in great need of a few zealous clergymen. In the allocation of alms to the different missions for 1854, it is charged with receiving 8,196 francs, when the sum received was only 2,400 francs. Had the Bishop the means within his reach he would have long since established a convent of Our Lady of Mercy at Helena, on the banks of the Mississippi.

OBITUARY.

"It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead; that they may be loosed from their sins."—2 Machab.

CLERICAL.

1855.

December, 4.—At the House of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, Annapolis, Md., George Reichert, a student of great piety, aged 18 years.

1856.

January 1.—At Baltimore, Md., Rev. Pierre Frédet, D. D., aged 56 years. See biographical memoir of this distinguished ecclesiastic, p. 43.

January.—Rev. James O'Loughlin, of the diocese of Boston. During the two years of his ministry Mr. O'Loughlin had acquired the esteem and affection of all the laity who were under his charge, and of all his brethren in the priesthood. His ardent zeal, unfeigned piety, and amiable disposition will long be remembered by the Catholics of Quincy and East Boston, who successively experienced the benefit of his ministry.

January.—Rt. Rev. BERNARD O'REILLY, D. D., 2nd Bishop of the Diocese of Hartford, on his return from Europe, supposed to have perished in the ill-fated Pacific, which sailed for New York from Liverpool, January 23rd 1856.*

The venerable and lamented subject of this memoir a native of County Longford, Ireland, was born in the year 1803, of parents on both sides illustrious for patriotism and piety. Being in his early years carefully instructed in piety, and trained up in the way the child should go, he departed not therefrom during the rest of his life. In early youth he was conspicuous for that humility and dignity, sweetly blending, which ever afterwards ornamented himself, while they delighted and instructed all around. Some of his coevals even now love to testify, that even in boyhood's giddy season, he displayed that solid devotion and greatness of soul, which endeared him when living to those who had the happiness of his society, and which, even in death, embalm his memory.

In the 22nd year of his age, being well versed in the literature of his native home, and distinguished for his classical knowledge, he disclosed to his fond parents, that all his wishes were centered, and only to be satisfied in the ecclesiastical state; at home, if it must be so, but that he would prefer to minister at the altar that's free. They gave their consent, they blessed him, he parted with them, and home, and Ireland, and embarked for America on the 17th of January, 1825. Soon after landing in America he entered the Ecclesiastical Seminary of Montreal, where to this day his name remains in sweet odor, for piety, talent, and dignified deportment. He completed his studies in Baltimore, and was promoted to the priesthood in 1831.

*In inserting this obituary, we deem it proper to state that it was communicated by the V. Rev. brother of Bishop O'Reilly.

The young priest lost no time in commencing with ardor and devotion to sanctify souls. His attention to the young, veneration for the aged, sympathy for the afflicted, charity to all, becoming all to all, "that he might gain all to Christ," endeared him to the entire community.

In the year 1832, the cholera set in and began to terrify the bravest hearts in New York. It was an awful time: the eyes that sparkled with all the vivacity of youth in the morning, were often sealed in the darkness of the grave in the evening, or dimmed by tears for the loss of some dear one. At that trying period, the priests were comparatively few in New York. It might truly be said, "The harvest is great, but the laborers are few." At such a time, a priest with health and strength and zeal, must be very much appreciated; the young Father Bernard was just such a priest, and it is slight praise to say that he was appreciated. Many who yet survive to tell of the terrible pestilence, mention his name with reverential awe, and his superhuman exertions with admiration. To this day, they will tell you, how, like a true soldier of the cross, he rushed into the face of danger at all times, in season and out of season, by day and by night, wholly regardless of self, provided he could assist the dying, console the afflicted, take in the orphan, or dry up the widow's tears.

After the unutterable labor of that sad summer, one might expect to find him reposing for a little while, renewing his strength, or invigorating his enfeebled constitution. But the person who would think so, would have been disappointed; for in December 1832 I find him strenuously laboring as pastor of St. Patrick's church in Rochester. The mission of Rochester at that time wore an unfavorable aspect; for all the missions west of Auburn to Niagara Falls, there was (I might say) only Father Bernard of Rochester. Then Catholics were to be sought after, collected together, and instructed, at the expense of long journeys, day and night, amidst cold and hardships; deep seated prejudices were to be removed, Catholics themselves in many instances requiring reconciliation, and even in Rochester, peace could hardly be said to be ruling supremely. In those many and far separated missions, our holy religion might be likened to the lonely pensive penitent of the desert; but to that solitary the young, zealous and enterprising missionary directed the attention and devotion and affection of his heart, and by his incessant labors made the desert fertile for her, and bloom like the rose.

To the untiring exertion of Father Bernard O'Reilly, next to God, we must attribute the wonderful change wrought in favor of Catholics, and the triumphant victory which our holy faith achieved in Rochester and the surrounding country. The fortunate and grateful citizens of that place, seeing his stainless, steady, onward career, admired the man, and honored the priesthood in his name. The Kearns, Bradlys, Galleries, and Tones can best tell, what fruit his labors produced during the nineteen years that he was Pastor in Rochester, for they were witnesses from the beginning of his mission there, they saw with grief our divine religion as delicate as the solitary plant in the sand of the desert. They too saw it watered, and its rapid growth attended by the good husbandman; they lived to see that once weakly plant become the most majestic tree of the garden, and reposing to-day under the solemnity of its shade, they can and do say, God hath wrought this work, He is glorified in the zeal of this priest, who adorns the ministry by his virtues. As flowers impregnate the surrounding atmosphere with their odor, so did he impart to the social order in Rochester the influence of his innate virtues: modesty with firmness, charity without ostentation, liberality without weakness are virtues so discernable to-day in that community, that one may say, "tho' dead, he still speaketh to them."

Rt. Rev. Bishop Timon, immediately after his consecration, invited Father Bernard to live in his episcopal mansion in Buffalo to preside over his seminary and diocese as Vicar General. To remove from Rochester, which he loved so long and so well, was a great sacrifice indeed; but for God's greater glory, he made it, and, with the jealous care of a parent, committed his spiritual children only to the care of his Rev. brother. In the capacity of V. G. he endeared himself to people, priests, and bishop. A clergyman was never more beloved by people than he was by all the inhabitants of the diocese of Buffalo. The Bishop of Buffalo, during the period I speak of, has oftentimes, in his own candid and fervent style, done justice, through the press, to the talents and merits of the deceased.

In 1850 the Catholic Hierarchy of the U. S. met in Council at Baltimore, and the Holy Ghost directing, selected the Rev. B. O'Reilly as the clergyman best qualified to fill the vacant see of Hartford. The Holy See confirmed the appointment, and he, bowing in holy resignation to the will of God, was consecrated in Rochester in St. Patrick's Church, which his zeal had beautified, in presence of thousands whom he had trained so long in virtue. No sooner had he entered on the duties of his See, than he justified and honored the wisdom of his appointment. His mildness tempered the Puritanic spirit of that place, his dignified piety and bearing, like an ægis, protected his subjects from the shafts of obloquy and contempt; while his enterprising genius at once grasped in its gigantic capacity the many and great obstacles, essentially existing in the See over which he came to preside. The tide is not more resistless in its motion to the shore, than were his acts towards the aggrandizement of the spouse of Christ, during the five years and more that he governed the diocese of Hartford. I am aware that, during that time, the splendor of his fame seemed for a moment shaded by the dark vapors of the malevolent; but, I know likewise, that, in a moment, the rectitude and wisdom of his course shone forth in redoubled lustre, as shineth the sun, when emerging from an eclipse.

During these few years, the Catholic population, under his jurisdiction, grew in number and in virtue. The priesthood was multiplied, so as to meet the wants of the people, and institutions of the order of Mercy sprang up in vigor, and in strength, in various parts of the Diocese. To protect and foster these holy institutions, his labor and his life were ever ready. The sisters, as well as the citizens of Providence, were witnesses of this; in 1855, when thousands of a phrenzied mob surrounded the house of Mercy in Providence, threatening the inmates with death, the heroic Bishop, scorning all temporizing policy, with courage worthy the palmy days of chivalry, stood forth and said to one and all: "The sisters are in their home, they shall not leave it even for an hour; I shall protect them while I have life, and, if needs be, register their safety with my blood." The heart of the man might be broken; to bend to the tempest of bigotry it could not, and God seeing the victim ready, and accepting the will for the sacrifice, withdrew the arm uplifted to strike, and poured down on the spiritual family of his faithful Bishop those blessings formerly bestowed on Abraham for his faith.

To complete the facilities of education, he resolved to bring from Europe an order of religious men, to take charge of the male portion of his Diocese, to accomplish which, he undertook his last sad journey to Europe, and sailed on the 5th of December, 1855. The very season of the year would have dissuaded a less zealous man; but the work was to be done, and he was not one of those who postponed. Having accomplished, to some extent, the object of his visit to Europe, bidding an adieu to his parents and friends, he embarked on the steamer Pacific for his diocese the 23d January, 1856, where his spiritual children were waiting and praying for his return. But the Queen of Heaven was also offering prayers to her Divine Son, that he would call the holy Prelate from a world of care to the joys of heaven, which his work deserved. Her prayers were heard, and as the ship went down, angels waiting on his soul, conducted it to the throne of God, and there, no doubt, assigned it a high place amid the hierarchy of heaven.

At length the alarming rumor of the loss of the Pacific spread through every corner of the land, and fear and hope and joy and grief in rapid succession alternately affected the community at large. Every exertion was made, by land and sea, to aid or discover the missing vessel. Finally, the silence of any hopeful circumstance being so deep, that all pronounced it the silence of death, and the death-knell of Bishop O'Reilly rang from Georgia to Maine and echoed through the world. At that dark hour the grief of his widowed diocese was almost beyond control. Priests and people thronged to the altar of God, to offer, or assist in offering, the all-atoning sacrifice for the repose of his soul. Many venerable prelates and clergymen came from a distance, to offer their prayers and sympathies for him, and even the illustrious John of New York, was present, in his gentleness of heart, to share the sorrows of the bereavement.

In the death of the venerable Bishop O'Reilly, the American church lost one of her most faithful defenders, society one of its brightest ornaments; the entire inhabitants of the land, without distinction of creed or party, join in paying the tribute of esteem and veneration to his memory; while the Catholic community in prayer and hope bow down to the holy will of God, with that resignation which characterized the Bishop himself in life, and which, amid the perils of death, earned for him, we trust, that blessed invitation of God, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter into the joy of thy Lord."

February 5.—Was drowned accidentally in the Merrimac river, Missouri, Rev. John McCaffrey, pastor of Richwoods, while on a journey to visit the sick.

February 15.—At Concord, New Hampshire, Rev. John O'Reilly, in the 34th year of his age.

February 17.—At Lowrytown, Pennsylvania, Rev. Andrew O'Connor, in the 60th year of his age.

February 19.—At Loyola College, Baltimore, of consumption, Father Peter B. O'Flanagan, S. J., in the 49th year of his age. Born in the county Fermanagh, Ireland, of very respectable parentage, he emigrated to this country, and entered the Society of Jesus, inflamed with the desire of laboring for the spiritual welfare of others. A charming suavity of disposition attended him through life, and was particularly to be remarked in the arduous duties, in which, at various periods, he was engaged. He was ordained priest by the late Archbishop Eccleston, and soon after sent to take charge of the congregation of Trinity Church, Georgetown, D. C. The beautiful new church erected in this latter place, owns him as its builder, and the parochial school attached claims him as its founder and its father. Few may be aware of the advantages derived in his time, from this school. Numbers of boys attending it were clothed by him, and many now respectable men, who then roamed the streets uninstructed and a prey to crime, were taken by him and educated. It would occupy too much time to recount the many deeds of benevolence and disinterested zeal, which signalized his pastoral care during twelve years in Georgetown. Suffice it to say, that in one of his midnight visits to the sick, he contracted a cold, which resulted in the disease of which he died. He evinced great patience during his whole sickness, and retained his cheerfulness and courage to the last. Fortified by the sacraments of the Church, he breathed his last with scarcely a struggle, so sweetly did his soul pass from its earthly tenement to the presence of his God. His remains were conveyed to Georgetown, and buried in the college cemetery.

March 1.—At Santa Clara College, California, Rev. John Nobili, S. J., aged about 44 years. Born in Rome, Italy, of very pious parents, he was educated by them after the true christian model. Having entered the Society of Jesus in 1828, he was remarkable for the virtues of a true religious, and distinguished himself by the great facility with which he acquired learning. After having taught with great success in different colleges of Italy, he applied himself to theology, was ordained priest in 1843, and soon after proceeded in company with Father De Smet, to Oregon Territory, to labor for the conversion of its savage tribes. On these missions, and especially among the Indians of New Caledonia, he spent six years, suffering incredible hardships and privations, but reaping a rich harvest by the success of his ministry in that distant region. Sent to California in 1849, he labored first at San Francisco, then at San José, where his zeal and charity were most conspicuous during the ravages of the cholera in 1850. The following year he took charge of the mission at Santa Clara, and undertook the formation of a college, which grew into prosperity under his direction, and is now the principal seat of learning in California. Father Nobili was universally respected for his zeal, piety and charity, while his affable manner and hospitable disposition, endeared him to all who knew him.

March 14.—At Santa Barbara, California, Very Rev. Joseph Jimeno, Prefect of the Mission.

March 21.—Near Nashville, Tennessee, Rev. Augustine Murphy, native of Ireland, and in the 50th year of his age. The deceased was a zealous laborer in the vineyard.

April 8.—In Kentucky, Rev. Robert Burns.

April 11.—At Nicetown, Pennsylvania, Rev. Dominic Berrill, a native of Drogheda, Ireland, and in the 75th year of his age.

April 17.—At Aiken, South Carolina, Rev. J. Phelan, late of Sing Sing, New York.

April 18.—At Fort Hamilton, L. I., Rev. Michael McGinn, a native of county Tyrone, Ireland, and in the 48th year of his age. Deceased had labored zealously in the ministry for twenty years.

June 20.—At Loyola College, Baltimore, of typhoid fever, Rev. George King, S. J., in the 61st year of his age. Born at Laurel, Delaware, and educated at Georgetown, D. C., he entered the Society of Jesus, was ordained priest in 1835, and sent to Bohemia, in Eastern Maryland, in 1837. In the various missions both in that part of the State, and in the adjoining counties of Delaware, he labored as an active and zealous missionary for nearly twenty years. Weakened by his toils in the apostleship, he was, in 1855, removed to Newtown, in St. Mary's county, Maryland, where it was hoped he would regain some of the health, of which his arduous labors in Eastern Maryland had deprived him. His ill health continuing, he, in the spring of this year, by the advice of his physician, repaired to Baltimore for surgical treatment. Here an attack of typhoid fever, in a few days entirely prostrated his already tottering frame, and closed his useful, pious, and edifying life.

He was remarkable for his simplicity of manners, his kindness to all, and his admirable humility. He lived contented and unmurmuring in every privation. His patience and meekness were all that could be desired: whilst his zeal for the welfare of others led him to brave the scorching heat of summer, and the storms of many a severe winter, to visit the sick, sometimes at a distance of a hundred miles.

Perfectly resigned to the will of God, fortified by all the consolations of religion, and sustained by the presence and the prayers of his religious brethren, he departed, on the afternoon of the 20th inst., to a better life. It is needless to say, that the Society of Jesus, to which he belonged, lost in him a strenuous and a diligent laborer in the vineyard of the Lord. His remains were interred in the Cathedral cemetery, Baltimore.

June 24.—At Mauch Chunk, Pennsylvania, Rev. John Loughran, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, in that place, aged 33 years. January 31.—At St. Mary's of the Woods, Sister St. Francis Xavier, (Irma le fer de la Motte,) in the 40th year of her age. She was a native of France, born at St. Servan, Brittany, on the 15th of April, 1816. Reared in piety, she conceived a great zeal for the salvation of souls; and from her earliest years, she devoted time and sought occasions to impart pious instruction to little children. Desiring more and more to contribute to the sanctification of the neighbor, she eagerly embraced an opportunity of coming to the missions of the United States. To prepare herself a way, she entered the community of the Sisters of Providence at Ruillé, that was about sending Sisters to Indiana to found a house of their order under the auspices of the Bishop of Vincennes. The Sisters designed for the mission left, whilst she was going through her novitiate; and it was not till a little over a year, that she was able to join the Sisters at St. Mary's, where she arrived in the fall of 1841. A few years afterwards, when the number of subjects was sufficiently increased to organize the Sisterhood, she was unanimously chosen Mistress of Novices, which office she held till her death.

March 21.—At the Sisterhood of Mt. St. Vincent, N. Y., Sister Mary Bernard Stearns.

March 23.—At Washington, D. C., Sister Mary Angela (Dyer,) aged 20 years. On the eve of being professed in the Visitation Convent, Washington city, her feeble health was an obstacle, and she returned to her family in the hope that her recovery would soon enable her to make an irrevocable consecration of herself to God: but she died in the midst of her friends.

April 22.—At the Sisterhood of Mt. St. Vincent, New York, Sister Susan Knott.

May 14.—At St. Mary's of the Woods, Mother Theodore Guerin, in the 58th year of her age, Foundress and Superior General of the community of Providence. She was a native of France, born at St. Brieux, Brittany, on the 2d of October, 1798. She was for a number of years a distinguished member of the community of the Sisters of Providence, at Ruillé in the department of Sarthe. When the Bishop of Vincennes, in 1839, applied to that house for Sisters to form an establishment in his diocese, Sr. St. Theodore was appointed Superior of the foreign mission, though allowed the privilege to decline the charge if she chose. At first she felt unwilling to leave the Sisterhood to which she was devotedly attached; and besides, she dreaded to undertake a task of such responsibility; but fearing to oppose the will of God if she refused, she finally accepted the proposal.

The following summer, 1840, she left France with five Sisters, and arrived at St. Mary's in the month of October. The Sisters came to a wilderness, found miserable lodging, and endured considerable hardship; but this was the field for the energy and activity of Mother Theodore, both in a temporal and spiritual point of view.

As soon as it was known in the neighborhood and farther off, that Sisters were established at St. Mary's, subjects commenced presenting themselves for admission, and every year added to the number of the rising community. She formed the subjects to a religious life herself; for during the first years she was obliged to unite in her person all the offices of an organized society. Being a perfect religious, she was well calculated to impart to her young Sisters all the virtues that constitute a religious state. At the same time her attention was directed without ground was cleared, buildings were erected, and some of the scattered families, attracted by the sound of the community bell, came and settled within sight of the house. Thus she labored for fifteen years, and the place as it now is, attests how much she accomplished in that short period.

July 12.—At the Convent of Sisters of Mercy, N. Y., Sister Mary Ignatius, (Murray,) in the 32d year of her age.

July 24.—At the Convent of Notre Dame, Cincinnati, Sister Stanislas Kostka, in the 29th year of her age.

July 26.—At the Visitation Convent, Georgetown, D. C., Sister Mary Michael Brennan, aged 42 years.

August 30.—At the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg, Brother John O'Hanton, of the third order of St. Francis. He was a native of Ireland, about 45 years of age, and in the 14th year of his profession. He had labored with great zeal and fruit in the instruction of youth in his native country, in Newfoundland and in the diocese of Pittsburg.

September 2.—At the Sisterhood of Mt. St. Vincent, New York, Sister Redempta McMahon.

September 8.—At Loyola College, Baltimore, Patrick Kelly, a lay-brother of the Society of Jesus, in the 44th year of his age, and 11th of his religious life.

September 29.—At the Trappist Monastery, near Newhaven, Kentucky, Brother Isaac Sorel, aged 75 years. Born in France, he served under Napoleon 1st during the campaign of Russia, and was for many years a prisoner of war. Upon his release he became a member of the Trappist order, and died after a long and painful illness, which he bore with heroic patience and resignation.

October 3.—At the Visitation Convent, Georgetown, D. C., Sister Mary Theodora Hill, aged 21 years.

October 6.—At the Sisterhood of Mt. St. Vincent, N. Y., Sister Agatha Nugent.

October 12.—At St. Joseph's Sisterhood, Emmitsburg, Sister Donnelly.

October 14.—At the Visitation Convent, near Mobile, Ala., Sister Mary Philomena Martin.

October 25.—At Pittsburg, Pennsylvania Brother Joseph Tricdel, of the Congregation of the M. Holy Redeemer.

November 18.—At Hartford, Connecticut, Sister Mary Camillus Xavier, of the Convent of Sisters of Mercy in that place. She had been nine years a member of the Institute.

This summary exhibits the statistics of each diocese and of each ecclesiastical province. The total of clergymen here varies, from that of the alphabetical list, owing to several not having been reported on active duty.

From the summary here presented, and preceding statements, it follows that in the United States there are 7 archbishops, 32 bishops, 1872 priests, and 2053 churches, distributed among 41 diocesses and 2 apostolic vicariates, and showing for the past year an increase of 111 priests, and 143 churches. During the year 1 bishop and 24 priests departed this life, and besides these, 163 whose names appeared on the catalogue of 1856, are not reported for 1857: whence it appears, that the total accession of priests during the year was 298.

The figures of population in the table are those returned by the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Bishops: but as they are not complete, we forbear any hypothetical estimate of the total number of Catholics in the United States, in regard to which there exists so vast a difference of opinion. The subject, however, is one of great interest, and we respectfully suggest that the intrinsic difficulties which it presents, are by no means insurmountable. To calculate accurately the Catholic population of the different diocesses at stated periods, it is sufficient we think, to adopt as a basis, the annual number of births and deaths, which may be obtained from the parochial records of baptisms and interments. The number of baptisms, however, will represent the number of deaths, only so far as they are of persons not more than one year old. To show how these data may be employed for the end in view, we shall estimate in this way the number of Catholics in the diocese of Philadelphia. From a report furnished by the Rt. Rev. Bishop of that diocese, we learn that the total number of baptisms in the diocese during the year 1855, was 12,216, more than half of which (6201) were in Philadelphia. It is probable that at least 500 of those who received baptism, were not born during that year, being converts to the church, or children whose baptism had been delayed. Deducting these from the total number, we have 11,716. Now, according to Debow's Report of the Seventh Census of the United States, the ratio of births to the total population is 3.02 per cent., or 1 birth to every 33.11 inhabitants. Thus, from 11,716 births, we have 387,916 inhabitants. But, as in this country a large proportion of the Catholics intermarry with persons who are not of their religious faith, some deduction must be made for these mixed families, and their ratio should be determined in order to estimate with exactitude the Catholic population. In the present instance, supposing the number of such families in the diocese of Philadelphia to be 7,000, or about $\frac{1}{3}$ of the whole number, we have, after deducting these non-Catholics, and adding the number of converts, 380,000 as the Catholic population of the diocese. This estimate we do not consider rigidly exact, because for such a result we should know the exact number of persons baptized not more than one year old, and also the exact number of mixed families. But, the estimate here given shows how these data may be used, and it is otherwise plain that they may with proper attention to the subject, be readily collected in the different dioceses. Although the ratio of births to the population, as given by Debow, is very nearly that of France (3.01 per cent.) we think it too high: the government of the United States has not yet adopted very effectual means for ascertaining the number of births. But even adopting the ratio of Debow, if the other data were collected as mentioned above, and especially the number of deaths, a very satisfactory calculation of the number of Catholics in the United States could be made.

* In this column is given the number of ecclesiastical students of every grade, secular and regular.

† This column exhibits the number of distinct institutes, not the number of houses or establishments which they may embrace.

In several of these institutions the course of study is not confined to theology, but embraces the preparatory branches.

RELIGIOUS ORDERS AND CONGREGATIONS

Employed in the instruction of youth in the United States.

To form a proper estimate of the Catholic element in the work of education in this country, it is necessary to bear in mind the following considerations:

1. The different orders and congregations mentioned below, apply to the instruction of youth without any patronage or endowment from the State. The numerous colleges and academies under their charge, are all the offspring of their own enterprise and zeal, and are sustained solely by their constant labor and judicious administration.
2. The members of these societies devote themselves to the work of education, not from motives of pecuniary gain, (for they receive no compensation for their services,) but with the sole view to accomplish the will of God, which is indicated to them in the various duties which their institute prescribes. It is true, that the societies, as corporations, require a remuneration for the tuition and board of their students; but the members individually derive no emolument from their labors: they merely enjoy a maintenance in their respective houses. This spirit of disinterestedness imparts to their occupation the noblest character of which it is susceptible, while they themselves are raised by it to the most honorable rank among those who are engaged in the cause of education.

3. Having only in view the performance of duty, without any prospect of pecuniary reward, the members of these societies are impelled by the strongest inducements to acquit themselves faithfully of the trust confided to them. While they are actuated, like other preceptors, by a sense of justice towards the pupils under their care, they are animated by the additional motive of enhancing their own personal merit in the eyes of God, and are therefore doubly secured against the temptation to negligence or remissness.

4. When such is the high character of instructors and instructresses, they must necessarily regard the moral training of their scholars as an essential part of their education. To guard them against vice, and form them to the knowledge and pursuit of virtue, is considered more important even than to instruct them in the merely intellectual branches of study. In a country like this, especially, where the stability of our political institutions depends much more on the morality than the intelligence of the people, it is of infinitely greater moment to train the rising generation to habits of self-control, of respect for authority and submission to superiors, than to make them adepts in purely secular knowledge.

With the aid of these preliminary observations, the reader may form some idea, from the following statistics, of the comparative amount of Catholic enterprise, liberality, devotedness and success, in the education of American youth:

MEN.	Colleges.	Students.	Academies.	Students.	Free Schools.	Pupils.

Remark.—Beside the above, there are 10 colleges under the direction of secular clergymen, containing about 700 students. In the list of free-schools, 4 are industrial or manual-labor schools. The totals of students are below the reality, as in some institutions the number is not reported. In many dioceses, there are parochial schools under the charge of lay-teachers at nearly all the churches. If the number of pupils in these schools were reported, it would form, in connection with the statements here exhibited, an interesting and valuable subject of information.

Remark.—Besides the above, there are 10 orphan asylums under secular management, with 837 inmates, which will make the whole number of orphans supported by Catholic charity 5300; but this total, as well as that of the patients in hospitals is too low, as the number of inmates in several of the orphan asylums and many of the hospitals is not reported. There are also 3 widows' asylums, with 100 inmates, and 1 House of Protection for boys, with 110. Of the hospitals here mentioned, two are for lying in women.

The extent and excellence of that charity which is exerted by institutions under Catholic direction, can be properly appreciated only by those who consider attentively its subjective and objective character, or, in other words, the exalted virtue of those who exercise it, and its beneficent effects upon the afflicted and upon society in general.

1. In an economical point of view this charity saves to the State an immense expenditure, by the relief or support of thousands who would otherwise crowd the public asylums, and by furnishing for various good works agents who devote themselves gratuitously to their sublime calling.

2. These institutions afford the only adequate means of relieving many forms of human misery, physical and moral, by their special adaptation to the objects which they respectively have in view, and by the efficient services of their members, whose attentions to the poor and sick are prompted, not by the hope of gain or any worldly consideration, but by the sole motives of assisting the neighbor for God's sake.

3. The humanizing influence of such institutions is an immense advantage in a social point of view: for, it is impossible for a civilized people to have constantly before their eyes the spectacle of a generous and heroic charity, without being moved to admire it, and excited to the love of those noble and virtuous sentiments, which constitute the strongest bond of union among men.

PUBLISHED BY LUCAS BROTHERS.

Abridgment of the Christian Doctrine.

By the Right Rev. Bishop Hay. 32mo.

Price—19 cents.

The name of the author of this catechism, should be sufficient to insure its introduction into all places of religious instruction. Very simple in its language, it is peculiarly adapted to the capacity of children and older persons, who have not had the advantages of education.

Answer to Faber.

An Answer to the Rev. G. S. Faber's Difficulties of Romanism. By the Right Rev. J. F. M. Trevern, Bishop of Strasbourg, late Bishop of Aire. Translated by the Rev. F. C. Husenbeth. 12mo. cloth.

Price—75 cents.

No one could better reply to the work of Mr. Faber, than the Prelate against whose first work (Discussion Amicale) "the Difficulties of Romanism" were principally directed. The attack was made by a man who, it is conceded, wields an able pen, and defends, with a peculiar appearance of ingenuousness, the cause of the Protestant religion. But he defends a bad cause: and, consequently, is detected in the artifices to which he has recourse, to throw over his undertaking the veil of plausibility.

Anima Divota, or Devout Soul.

Translated from the Italian of the Very Rev. J. B. Pagani, Provincial of the Order of Charity in England. 24mo., 339 pp.

Price—38 cents.

"This is one of the most instructive and useful books that enrich our spiritual literature. It is a series of excellent considerations and devotions relative to the Eucharist as a Sacrifice and Sacrament, and will be found by the pious Catholic to be a valuable manual in the remote preparation for Holy Communion."

Beauties of Sir Thomas More.

A Selection from his Works, as well in prose as in verse, a sequel to the "Life and Times of More." By W. J. Walter. 18mo. cloth, gilt back.

Price—75 cents.

CONTENTS.

Utopia—a Political Romance.
Apology.
Devotional Pieces.
Apothegms. Thoughts.

History of King Richard III.
Controversial Writings.
Letters.
Poetry.

Without some acquaintance with the writings of the worthy Chancellor, no adequate idea can be formed of his genius and character. As he now stands exhibited to the notice of posterity, he was selected by the English Catholics of his day as the bulwark of their cause. Such a choice is not discreditable to their judgment.

Bona Mors;

A pious association of the devout servants of our Lord Jesus Christ dying on the cross, and the most Blessed Virgin Mary, his sorrowful Mother; commonly called Bona Mors, in order to obtain a good death. 24mo. cloth.

Price—19 cents.

Bossuet's Exposition.

An Exposition of the Doctrine of the Catholic Church in Matters of Controversy. By the Right Rev. J. B. Bossuet, with copious notes by the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D. 18mo. bound in cloth.

Price—38 cents.

After a series of contestations which has continued nearly three hundred years, we might suppose, that our dissenting brethren should be tolerably acquainted with the doctrines of the Catholic Church; or, at least, be disposed to understand them. Yet, how frequently have we to lament, that the aversion which our separated brethren entertain for the Catholic doctrine, arises chiefly from erroneous notions, misconceptions, prejudice, or ignorance. The celebrated author of this work proves, that to the method of education may be fairly attributed those antipathies which are inculcated in the tender age of childhood; which are strengthened by the "wisdom" of the parent, and the "piety" of the nurse, and which are ripened to maturity into a horror of the imputed cruelties of the Catholic Church, and a detestation of its alleged superstitions.

This work of the great Bossuet, perhaps the most useful of all his writings, and which he composed for the use of a few Protestants, was at first circulated privately; but at the earnest solicitations of some friends, the Prelate reluctantly gave his consent to make it public: the first edition was received with such avidity, and produced such happy effects upon the minds of many Protestants, that in a short time it passed through several editions in almost every European language. The excellence of this volume is great indeed: clear and perspicuous, it states in a manner the most satisfactory, the nature of nearly all our controverted doctrines: correct and lucid, it shows these to be divine; familiar and easy, it is such as the most moderate capacity can understand, whilst at the same time calm, liberal, and free from every thing like asperity, it is calculated to allay the prejudices, and soften the irritability of the opponents of our Holy Religion.

Christian Perfection.

Practice of Christian Perfection, from Rodriguez and other Catholic authors. By the Rev. E. Damphoux, D. D., Rector of the Cathedral. 2d edition. 12mo., cloth.

Catholic Christian

Instructed in the Sacraments, Sacrifice, Ceremonies and Observances of the Church, by way of Question and Answer. By the Most Rev. R. Challoner.

Price—In cloth, lettered, 25 cents.

The object the Right Rev. author of this work has in view, is, to explain the doctrine and ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church; to endeavor to remove those prejudices formed through ignorance, of the real tenets of Catholics; and, to disabuse that portion of the public, who, through misrepresentation, may have formed erroneous opinions of the largest portion of the Christian world.

Catechism of the Council of Trent.

Published by command of Pope Pius V. Translated by Rev. J. Donovan, Professor, &c., Royal College, Maynooth. In one volume, 8vo., cloth.

Price—$1 00

THE ROMAN CATECHISM, of which this is an English translation, was composed by decree of the Council of Trent; and the same venerable authority commands all Bishops "to take care that it be faithfully translated into the vernacular language, and expounded to the people by all pastors."

To meet the mischievous activity of the Reformers and to rear the edifice of Christian knowledge on its only secure and solid basis, the instruction of its authorized teachers; to afford the faithful a fixed standard of Christian belief, and to the Pastor a prescribed form of religious instruction; to supply a pure and perennial fountain of living waters to refresh and invigorate at once the Pastor and the flock, were amongst the important objects contemplated by the Fathers of Trent in the publication and translation of the Roman Catechism.

The world has been inundated with pernicious tracts, teeming with vituperative misrepresentations of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and loaded with unmeasured invective against the principles of Catholic morality, and we are now furnished, by the action of the Fathers of Trent, with an antidote eminently calculated to neutralize the poison, which has been so industriously diffused, to abate prejudice, instruct ignorance, promote piety, and confirm belief, with a work containing a comprehensive summary of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and a no less comprehensive epitome of the principles of Catholic morality.

To another, and, happily, an increasing class of the community, the present volume cannot fail to prove a useful acquisition—to those who, anxious only for truth, desire to know the real principles of Catholics could they arrive at a knowledge of them through the medium of a compendious and authoritative exposition.

To these important ends we cannot, perhaps, contribute more effectually, than by placing within the reach of all, a work explanatory of Catholic doctrine, and universally acknowledged authority in the Catholic Church.

Challoner's History.

Challoner's History of the Protestant Religion—Showing the beginning and progress of the Protestant Religion, gathered out of the best Protestant writers, by the Right Rev. R. Challoner. To which is added, the Conference of Luther with Satan, giving his reasons why the Mass should be abolished; with an introduction by the Rev. John Lingard. One volume. 18mo., cloth.

Price—25 cents.

Confidence in the Mercy of God.

Reflections on the Confidence in the Mercy of God. By the Right Rev. J. J. Languet, Bishop of Soissons. 18mo., cloth.

Price—38 cents.

In common enterprises, confidence is a part of the means which is employed in order to succeed; at least it animates and gives them a new vigor: fearful troops are half conquered, whilst the confidence of those soldiers that go to battle, re-doubles their ardor and fortifies their courage. It is not in vain that it is written, "By hope we are saved."

Cochin on the Mass.

Instructions on the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Translated from the French of M. Cochin, and arranged for each Sunday throughout the year, by W. Jos. Walter, late of St. Edmund's College. In one volume. 12mo., cloth.

Price—75 cents.

CONTENTS.

The Preparation.	The Consecration.
The Instruction.	The Preparation for Communion.
The Oblation.	The Communion.
The Canon.	The Thanksgiving.

The object of the author in these instructions, has been to deduce such consequences as may come home more nearly to our own bosoms, such as are most conducive to edification, and best calculated to give animation to faith, and fresh fervor to devotion. He has been particularly solicitous to avoid that mystic character, which in its attempt to give a mysterious construction to every trivial circumstance, has involved the whole subject in obscurity. His instruction on the various responses and minor prayers used by the church, which are apt to be hastily passed over, and by the frequency of their repetition, become a mere succession of unmeaning words, will be found particularly happy. Our Protestant brethren, who have been accustomed from their infancy to hear the very word Mass pronounced, with indistinct feelings of horror and aversion, should read this book in the same spirit of candor in which it was written.

"These instructions appear well adapted to strengthen the faith, and animate the piety of the faithful; as well as to inspire those sentiments of veneration, gratitude and love, with which all should be penetrated who assist at the adorable sacrifice, where the Son of God himself is at once the priest and the victim."—Approbation of Sorbonne.

Devout Communicant.

By the Rev. P. Baker. New Edition. 24mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

The estimation in which the pious author of the above works has been held, is evident from the following testimonial from the Hierarchy of Ireland.

“We highly approve of the publication of Baker's Works and recommend them to the perusal of the faithful, as eminently calculated to convey to persons of every station, solid and practical information, and to awaken in every breast sentiments of pure devotion.”

Difficulties of Protestantism.

By the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D. One volume. 12mo. sheep.

Price—50 cents.

Extract from the Dedication to the Rt. Rev. James Yorke Bramston, D. D., Catholic Bishop of London.

“The object of this work is to point out, as its title expresses, some of those innumerable difficulties, which surround, and perplex, the religion of Protestantism. To your lordship, a work of this description is addressed with peculiar propriety; because it was those very difficulties, which, first striking your good sense, whilst yet you were a Protestant, induced your prudence to view them with distrust, and ere long, to examine them with care. You did this, comparing them, at the same time, with the grounds, and character of the parent institute. I need not state what was the result. It was such as might be expected from a mind like yours,—frank, open, and sincere,—wishing to see the truth, and willing to admit it. Convinced soon of the illusive pretensions of Protestantism, you quitted the Established, and embraced the Catholic Church. Sacrificing, by the generous act, those flattering prospects of worldly honors, to which, both from your talents, your rank, and reputation, (for you were already a distinguished ornament in our temples of jurisprudence,) you were eminently entitled to aspire. Hence, therefore, the propriety of dedicating these pages to your lordship.”

Price, { Bound in cloth, 50 cents.

Dr. Milner's work has gone through more editions than any controversial work in the English language; and it has been the means, under God, of bringing back thousands of the English people to the ancient faith. His arguments have never been answered; and his powerful abilities have been exerted more in this work than in any other of his writings.

Father Rowland.

A North American Tale. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D. 18mo. cloth, gilt back.

Price—38 cents.

This little tale combines at once much theological research, a thorough knowledge of the world, an acquaintance with men, and an ability of description almost approaching to poesy.

It strikes us that it was written in answer to "Father Clement," although the name of that abusive little romance is not once mentioned—nor are the misrepresentations with which it abounds, so much as even alluded to.—Metropolitan.

Homilies on the Book of Tobias.

Homilies on the Book of Tobias, in a series of popular instructions, specially intended for Christians engaged in the concerns of the world. By the Rev. Francis Martyn. In one vol. 12mo. cloth.

Price—63 cents.

The history of the virtuous Tobias and his son, has ever appeared one of the most interesting and instructive of the Inspired Volume. It presents to us in the virtues of those holy personages, the most edifying models of fidelity, in the discharge of the ordinary duties of mankind. The obligations attached to the condition of married persons, parents, and masters of families, are, of all others, the most important, and those on which the welfare of the greater part of mankind depends. To the ignorance or neglect of these duties, may be traced the general diffusion of vice which reigns in the world.

We behold in Tobias, a model of virtue for every period of life; cautiously avoiding in his youth the snares of vice, and the company of the vicious; increasing in virtue as he advances in years; exact in the performance of his religious duties; cherishing in his heart a constant recollection of the presence of God, and making the divine will the end of all his actions; submitting with humble resignation to every appointment of Providence; attentive to the religious instruction of his child; anxious that all his family should serve God in sincerity and truth; full of charity for every neighbor; exposing himself to imminent dangers that he might fulfil the duties of brotherly love; revered and beloved by all who knew him; reaping, even in this life, the fruits of his piety, in the favor and protection of Heaven; and quitting this earthly scene full of merit, hope, and joy.

Hornihold's Discourses.

The Commandments and Sacraments Explained in fifty-two Discourses. By Right Rev. Dr. Hornihold, author of "Real Principles of Catholics." One vol. 12mo. cloth.

Price—$1 25

The learned prelate gives a full and perspicuous definition of each of the Commandments in a series of thirty-two discourses, and expatiates upon the nature, necessity, efficacy and dignity of the Sacraments received by the Catholic Church, in twenty discourses. It is the desire of the church, that all her children should receive the Commandments with a holy fear, and observe them with a perfect fidelity; such a fear is the beginning of wisdom: it places a salutary restraint upon the passions, and preserves our hearts from the contamination of vice; hence we must adore God as our supreme ruler, adhere to him by faith, hope and charity; and faithfully prepare all the duties required by religion, whether interior or exterior.

Imitation of the Blessed Virgin.

In four books, neatly bound in cloth.

Price—50 cents.

The pious author exhibits to our view the mother of our God under the various circumstances of her life; he presents to us the sentiments with which she was animated, the virtues she practised, and conjures us to take her for our model. Nevertheless it is a maxim of faith, that whatever excellencies we attribute to the Blessed Virgin, on the terms we make use of to express the esteem and respect we have for her, we can regard her in no other point of view than a most pure creature; consequently, infinitely below the Almighty: depending upon him, and indebted to him for all the gifts of nature and grace she possessed in this life, and the eminent degree of glory to which she is exalted in heaven. Thus our devotion to the Blessed Virgin, like that to the other saints is a relative honor redounding effectually upon, and terminating wholly in God.

"The author of this work," says the reverend and learned Alban Butler, "was one of the most excellent contemplatives of the last century. To his careful training, Dr. Henry de Boudon, and many other saintly priests and missionaries, owe, under God, their sublime piety and perfection."

This work, of all others, is calculated to revive the true and primitive spirit of Catholicity, so little studied in these degenerate days. Every Catholic should endeavor to possess a copy. It will be found a priceless treasure to every one aspiring to perfection.

Indian Cottage.

An Unitarian Story. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D. 18mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

The above work, by the author of Father Rowland, was written in vindication of a dogma, which is not only questioned, but systematically attacked, by a denomination who style themselves "Christians." This too, is the most vital dogma of Christianity; for, if the founder of the new covenant was a mere man, the system which he established is not as sublime as that of the old. The reality is not more substantial than the figure.

The prophecies have not been fulfilled.—Christ is no greater than the prophets, less than Moses.—This will be made manifest, it is thought, to any who will peruse this little work with attention, and without prejudice.

Lenten Monitor.

The Lenten Monitor, or Moral Reflections and Devout Aspirations on the Gospel for each day, from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday. By the Rev. P. Baker. 24mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

“There are few books better adapted to Lent, than this excellent work of Baker’s. In a style, at once pleasing and instructive, and with a piety which breathes in every page, he conveys to the reader the substance and pith of those portions of the sacred gospels, selected by the wisdom of the church, for every day in Lent. Most books of a spiritual nature are written in a style too dry and didactic to interest every class of readers: and, indeed, so general is this defect, that it is with difficulty that young persons can be persuaded to take up a book professedly religious. What we very much stand in need of in this country, are works of piety and morality, written in a manner which would please all, by the propriety and elegance of the composition. Did we possess such books, it would no longer be necessary, in order to acquire a style, to have recourse to productions, not merely profane, but frequently dangerous. What a delight is it not for the French reader to instruct himself not only in his religion, but in the minutest principles of perfection, by the classic writings of a Fenelon, a Bossuet, a Massillon, a Bourdaloue, a Flechier, and so many others. In Italian, too, we may learn the most refined devotion in the most elegant style. Who has not heard of a Segneri, a Bartoli, a Pinnamonti, a Liguori, &c. &c.? There are, certainly, in the English language, several spiritual works of high standing; such as Manning’s Moral Entertainments, Parson’s Directory, Gother, &c.; among these, the ‘Monitor,’ which is now under consideration, deserves not to hold the last place. The recommendation of it, by the Archbishop of Ireland, will convince the reader, that this praise is not exaggerated or unmerited. ‘We highly approve,’ write those respectable Prelates ‘of the publication of BAKER’S WORKS, and recommend them to the perusal of the faithful, as eminently calculated to convey to persons of every station, solid and practical information, and to awaken in every breast sentiments of pure devotion. The simplicity, perspicuity, and purity of style in which the divine truths are unfolded, admirably adapt these reflections to all capacities. The Pastor will find them useful in his closet, and at the altar; and the laity will learn from them to meditate with fruit on the life and passion of the Redeemer, and dispose themselves to rise with Christ, and seek the things that are above.’”

Sir Thomas More is one of the most prominent names in the English Catholic annals. This remarkable man claims attention under all the varied relations of the good father, the enlightened statesman, the elegant historian, and the no contemptible champion in the field of controversy.

Desirous of re-producing a faithful picture of the time, the author has taken pleasure in weaving into his narrative the many simple traits of domestic manners with which the pages of More's family biographers abound.

Lives of the Fathers of the Desert,

And of many holy men and women who dwelt in solitude. Translated from the French. Illustrated with 18 Engravings. 18mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

Christian reader, this little treatise will lead you to a knowledge of the true spirit of solitude: you will be transported to the wild recesses of the desert, or the dark caverns of the mountain, hallowed by the presence of some saintly hermit, and linger awhile in the interior of his cell, to listen to his conversation, witness his penances, and kneeling before that rude crucifix affixed to the rock as an emblem of a Saviour's love, unite with him in pious prayer. It will teach you to retire to the solitude of your own heart, and live amidst the glittering allurements of the world as if you knew them not. Nothing in them will perplex the understanding, but all will powerfully appeal to the heart: for while they are remarkable for the beautiful simplicity of style so peculiar to the Beatified Author, they are not less characterized by profound piety, ardent love of God, and tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mother of God. They are each divided into three points; each point generally includes acts of the love of God, of contrition for sin, and of supplication for final perseverance; and every last point concludes with a short prayer to the ever Blessed Mary.

"The additions to this edition are very important; they occupy some sixty pages of additional space, and they present the translation perfect, from the original Italian, instead of being, as it was, defective, from the French copies. If there had been no more than the simple change of You to Thou, in addressing the Creator, or Redeemer, or the Blessed Virgin, it would have been a great improvement; but here is all that St. Alphonsus wrote on the advantages of, and rules for, frequent communion, with a defence of his doctrine on this subject, and a Novena for All Souls' Day. The saintly little book is a well-spring of pure devotion, and they are blest who assist in pouring out its waters."

Moral Entertainments,

On the Practical Truths of the Christian Religion. By the Rt. Rev. Robert Manning. 2 vols. 12mo.—bound in one—cloth.

Price—$1 00

The zealous author of these volumes expounds the essential and indisputable duties of a Christian life, by considerations best adapted to withdraw our hearts from sin, and all inordinate attachments to the vanities of the world. He says, "A faithful disciple will follow Christ in the imitation of his virtues, and the practice of all Christian duties. If he be poor, he will imitate the patience, humility, and poverty of Jesus Christ. If he has a family to provide for by his industry and labor, he will take for his example the painful and laborious life of his Redeemer. If he is blessed with plenty, he will imitate his goodness, charity and mercy; and stimulate himself to future exertions, by the recollection of the maxims of the gospel, that what is done to the poor is done to Christ himself, and that alms given to the poor is money deposited in their hands to purchase for him a treasure in the kingdom of heaven."

Memorial of a Christian Life.

Containing all that a soul newly converted to God ought to do, that it may attain the perfection to which it ought to aspire. By Rev. F. Lewis de Granada, O. S. D. Revised and corrected by Rev. F. J. L'Estrange, O. S. D. Published with the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore. In one volume 18mo. 408 pp. neatly bound in cloth.

Price—50 cents.

Of all human things, there is none so noble as a perfect Christian. This volume prescribes the manner of forming one, and is, as it were, an abridgment of whatever relates to the conduct of a Christian in this life. It is divided into four parts, in the first of which our author portrays heaven and hell with the advantages that accompany virtue, and endeavors to persuade the sinner to take a strong resolution of leaving vice, and firmly applying himself to God's service. In the second part, he is taught how he must do penance and instructed in the manner of confessing himself and making a satisfaction proportionate to his offences. After confession follows Communion, and in the third part is given counsels and precepts for communicating worthily; with prayers which may be used before and after Communion. Amendment of Life, the fruit of these two sacraments is enlarged upon in the fourth part, and two rules of living well prescribed, one for those who content themselves with doing only what is necessary for their salvation, and the other for those who are more strict and spiritual.

This work is written in a plain and easy style, and is well calculated to produce an impression on the plainest mind.

The name of this celebrated polemic, so well known in the Christian world, has been, if we may so express it, consecrated to the best interests of religion by the many valuable and important disputations in which he was engaged; but in none have his powerful and argumentative abilities been exerted with more success, than in these "Letters," which are a most excellent companion to his celebrated work "The End of Controversy."

Religion is the only true foundation of morality.—BURKE.

The enemies of the Catholic creed have insidiously poured forth, in religious tales, the most unfounded calumnies against their doctrines and practice. It is right to learn a lesson from their misdirected zeal, to wrest from their hands the arms by which they impugn the truth, and to combat them with their own weapons. It was in this spirit that the dialogues of Mrs. Herbert were written for the use of the poor, by a lady, whose zeal and judgment cannot be too much admired, and who has sought and found, in the holy seclusion of a conventual life, those consolations of religion which she so beautifully describes in this interesting work.

Extract of a letter from the late Rt. Rev. Dr. Milner to the author:

Nouet's Meditations.

Meditations on the Life and Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ, for every day in the year. By Rev. J. Nouet, S. J. One Volume, 12mo. 828 pages. Printed from new Type on superfine Paper.

Price—$1 50

We approve of the re-publication of the MEDITATIONS, originally composed in French by Rev. J. NOUET, S. J. and recommend them as helps to devotion. Given under our hand this 28th day of August, 1855.

AS MEDITATION is one of the principal exercises by which the self-sacrificing traits of the Son of God can be communicated to the soul, it is superfluous to enlarge on its vast importance, the inestimable benefits of its daily practice—St. Augustin pronounces it, “the beginning and ground of all good,” and the Holy Ghost fully sanctions the exalted estimate of its advantages by the eulogy he pronounces through the Psalmist, on the man who is faithful to the practice of it: “Happy is the man who meditates day and night on the law of the Lord. He shall be like a tree that is planted on the river side, which brings forth its fruit in due season.”

Our author commences with the first Sunday in Advent, the beginning of the ecclesiastical year, by meditating on the HIDDEN LIFE of our Lord, in a series of practical meditations—those on the SUFFERING LIFE following them, are adapted to the Holy Season of Lent, and are devoted almost exclusively to the passion of Christ. This adaptation perfectly harmonizes with the Spirit of the Church: the mourning garb she assumes in her public ministry during that period of recollection and retreat—the affecting solemnity of her ritual—the sorrowful tones of her liturgy—all feelingly express the object on which she dwells in all the fondness of impassioned grief—the passion of her divine Spouse is never forgotten even in her most joyful festivals, but during this season it absorbs every thought and sentiment, and impels her to call on all to sympathize with her. After his resurrection, from contemplating the sorrows of his sufferings, our author passes to the joys and consolations of his GLORIOUS AND MYSTICAL LIFE, and endeavors to arouse the desponding sinner by dwelling on the inestimable benefits derived from the holy Communion, and the dispositions requisite to receive it worthily. In the glorified life of our Lord, he finds continual matter to instruct and encourage us in the discharge of our active duties, whilst in his mystical life in the blessed Sacrament, he exhibits the most powerful, as well as the sweetest, of all means, for cherishing that spirit of prayer and recollection, on which the fidelity of our exterior conduct principally depends. After Pentecost, the PUBLIC LIFE of our Lord is presented for our meditation—the Son of Man is before us amid the labors, the contests, and the sufferings of his divine Mission. Whilst the divine beauty of our Redeemer's character discloses itself with such captivating sweetness, under every diversity of circumstance, and amid every variety of persons, in this part of the work, his example prepares us for every trial and suffering we are destined to encounter here below. Directed by such a light, we find that it is in this commerce of duty and charity, this routine of ordinary actions, that the highest and most enduring virtues are to be acquired; and contemplating all with the eye of faith, we learn to render each, however trivial or humble, meritorious of eternal life, by offering it in union with the acts and operations of the Man-God.

This method of instruction is sanctioned by the practice and authority of our Divine Redeemer himself, who conveyed his life-giving doctrine to the people under the guise of similitudes and parables. It is a mode of instruction peculiarly adapted to children.

Piety Exemplified.

With appropriate illustrations, from historical, and other sources; interspersed with familiar reflections, adapted to the capacity of youth. By the Rev. B. Rayment. Two vols. bound in one, cloth, gilt back.

Price—75 cents.

The examples that are here selected, are founded on facts taken from real life. The authorities are not all given, for obvious reasons that require no apology; whilst those that are given, may be safely depended upon.

Neither time nor labor has been spared to elucidate the truth. With regard to the language, sentiments, incidents, and occasional applications, the author has had in view the advantage of his young readers, by endeavoring to give the most lively interest in his power to the performance.

He has drawn stores from every mine within his reach: his object has been to breathe into the whole work an animating spirit of virtue, a high sense of honor, probity, and philanthropy: these are the powers he has pressed into his service, purposely to refine, and exalt the sentiments of the heart; to improve, and inform the understanding; and to call into activity the faculty of invention and research—the first index of latent genius—the first opening of every future exertion.

Pise's Church History.

A History of the Church, from its establishment to the Reformation.

By the Rev. C. C. Pise, A. M. 5 vols. 12mo. cloth.

Price—$3 50

The Rev. Author places the prominent and leading facts in such order as to give to general readers a sufficient knowledge of the occurrences regarding religion; this is done in a very clear, simple and pleasing style: there is no attempt at decoration, which would be altogether out of place in a historical work; perspicuity and orderly method are the essential characteristics of the historian—and the author of this work appears to us to have fully attained it. As far as we could judge, by some paragraphs which we have read, the style is uniformly and pleasingly sustained. The Index is accurately and judiciously compiled; so that the references are simple and abundant. It is a work which ought to be generally read.—

Poor Man's Catechism ;

Or, the Christian Doctrine explained, with short Admonitions. By John Mannock, O. S. B.

Price—In cloth lettered, 25 cents.

In this volume, the reverend author has given a full and lucid view of the doctrines of the church, together with short, but impressive instructions; such as the following:

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. Luke, x. 27, Matt. xxii. These are the two great commandments, or precepts of charity; in these two we fulfil the law and the prophets; and the reward is life everlasting. To love God with all your heart, is to love him truly; to love him with all your soul, is to employ all the interior powers of your soul in his service; to love him with all your strength, is to serve him with your exterior power and actions; to love him with all your mind, is to fix your mind upon him in holy contemplation, and think there is none so amiable as he. With this love we must join a holy fear; love him as your Father, fear him as your God.

Price—38 cents.

This small work contains the controverted points between Roman Catholics and their dissenting brethren: the author develops the misrepresentations and slanders emitted against the faith and morals of the former, and solicits the latter to examine seriously, and dispassionately, and charitably, the stedfastness of the Roman Catholic faith which is in Jesus Christ.

The best proof of a reading people, is the publication of works among them; how gratifying then to witness, not only the appearance of so many new works from our various publishers, but the nature of the works now so frequently offered to our attention. We have just received the work whose title we place above, from Mr. F. Lucas, Jr. It is a republication, the first, we believe, on this side of the Atlantic, of a most valuable volume, from the pen of the Rev. Joseph Reeve, author of the History of the Christian Church, and also compiler of the History of the Bible. The name of the author, would, in itself, be an ample recommendation, but the intrinsic value of the work itself, should recommend it to many purchasers. In the first part, the various attributes of the Deity are explained and practically illustrated. The history and miracles of Jesus Christ are recorded in the second part, in the exposition of the principal festivals instituted in his honor, and the institution of the Eucharistic sacrifice is established and explained. The volume is filled with practical knowledge, and we wish it were in the hands of every body. It is printed on fine paper and clear type.—Cath. Herald.

Review of Fox's Book of Martyrs.

Critical and Historical Review of Fox's Book of Martyrs, showing the Inaccuracies, Falsehoods and Misrepresentations in that Work of Deception. By William Eusebius Andrews. Embellished with fifty engravings. In 2 vols. 8vo. bound in one—cloth.

Price—$2 50

It was during the reign of terror and proscription in England, when the faithful historian was certain of being incarcerated in prison, if he escaped with his life; when magistrates were empowered to make domiciliary visits at any hour, in search of works favorable to the Catholic creed; when spies were encouraged to denounce those whom they suspected: it was under this system, that the infamous libel of John Fox, made its first appearance in the English language.

Fox's Book of Martyrs has contributed to excite prejudices and bigotry against the Catholic Church more, perhaps, than any other book extant. Aware of this, the enemies of the Church have spared neither pains nor expense to give it a wide circulation. Edition after edition has issued from the press, until the book has found its way into every library and every Protestant family in the land, among whom it has become a favorite manual of amusement and instruction. To counteract the poison of this book of lies, it is necessary to give the antidote as extensive a circulation as possible. We consider it the duty of every Catholic to have a copy of the "Review," to read it with care and put it into the hands of every man who will hear and profit by the truth. By this means the public will be enabled to detect the monstrous imposition palmed upon the community, and the shame and infamy of wilful and malicious falsehood will return upon those who circulate this book of misrepresentation for an authentic record of facts. We do not deny that Catholics have persecuted as well as Protestants. But if the truth must—let it be told. Let there be no exaggeration; and while we execrate the inhuman persecutor, whether Catholic or Protestant, let us not, as infidels have done, charge the crime upon Christianity in general, or upon the particular sect to which they belonged, unless it can be proved that these persecutions are produced by their religious principles and profession.

Sacred Heart of Jesus,

And the Sacred Heart of Mary; translated from the Italian of Father Lanzi, author of "The History of Painting." With an introduction by Rev. C. P. Meehan. Published with the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore. One volume. 24mo. 350 pp., cloth.

Price—38 cents.

The author of this volume was one of the most learned and eminent Italian priests, who died in 1809, after writing many celebrated works. It is divided into two parts, and consists of a series of meditations; the first part on the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and the second on the Sacred Heart of Mary, which, it is almost superfluous to tell the reader, is a necessary consequence of devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. This volume is calculated to make this beautiful devotion, which is not a novelty in the Church, still more popular, and is highly recommended to the religious.

Spiritual Combat.

The Spiritual Combat, to which is added the peace of the soul and the happiness of the heart. which dies to itself in order to live to God. 32mo. cloth.

Price—25 cents.

This work is second only to the “Following of Christ.” It was the constant companion of St. Francis of Sales, and contributed not a little to nourish the tender and enlightened devotion, by which that eminent saint was distinguished. The pious author of this treatise proves, that a spiritual life is founded on perfect self-denial, sincere sentiments of humility, and diffidence in ourselves on the one side; and on the other, in an entire confidence in God, a profound sense of his goodness, love, and mercy towards us. The great St. Francis de Sales assures us, he read a portion of it every day for twenty years, and always with great advantage.

Spiritual Director

Of Devout and Religious Souls. From the Writings of St. Francis of Sales. Bound in cloth.

Price—50 cents.

The name of the truly great St. Francis gave a worth and character to this work, which no language of ours can enhance. Each chapter is devoted to the elucidation of some Christian virtue, or to the enforcement of some Christian duty. It is one of those peculiarly excellent books, of which we can never tire. It is not to buy it, read it, and then put it on the shelf. Over and over again it may be perused, and then reperused, and always with profit and delight. A chapter or two might be studied, and made the subject of meditation for every day of life—and to those who have no director of a similar kind, we recommend that they obtain this without delay.

Stories of the Seven Virtues. By Agnes M. Stewart. One volume. 18mo. neatly bound in cloth.

Price—38 cents.

This is a series of moral and interesting tales, told with an elegant simplicity—each illustrating the triumph of one of the seven virtues. The stories are well conceived, and the moral ever salutary and impressive. To our young friends we would recommend this little volume with an assurance that its perusal will be attended with more practical good than if they had waded through a dozen of the light and trashy novels of the day. The gifted authoress has prepared a work for which her young friends ought to be truly grateful.

P. O'SHEA'S NEW PUBLICATIONS.

I.

Life of Guendaline, Princess Borghese.

Translated from the German, with an introduction by the Rev. A. F. Hewit, Priest of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer.

The New York Freeman's Journal says: "We are delighted to see this admirable little Life of so exemplary a Catholic of our own times. The subject is one of interest, and the style of the translator is particularly agreeable."

The St. Louis Leader says: "We have often to commend books with words of praise, since no other would be exactly suitable, although they scarcely merit what the words convey. The present volume is an exception. It is in reality equally interesting and edifying, and forms a most promising commencement of the New Catholic Library commenced by Mr. O'Shea. The Life of Guendaline Talbot reads like a story of romance, yet it is all true."

II. and III.

The Life of Abulcher Bisciaral.

"The Little Angel of the Copts," an Alumnus of the Roman Propaganda, by Father Bresciani, author of the "Jew of Verona," translated from the Italian, with an Introduction by Rev. A. F. Hewit, Priest of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer.

Edma and Marguerite.

A Tale, by the Author of the "Orphan of Moscow." 2 vols. 18mo. cloth, plain, 37½ cents each; gilt, 62½ cents.

It is unnecessary to commend a tale written by Madame Wolliez to those who have read the "Orphan of Moscow," but whilst the Tale of "Edma and Marguerite" is told with a vividness of characterization, which both edifies and charms, yet its chief merit is in the direct application of the moral to the mothers and daughters of America so seldom found in translations.

Life of a Modern Martyr.

Monsieur Dumoulin Borie, beheaded in Tonquin, A. D. 1838. By Father Hewit. 1 vol. 18mo. cloth, plain, 37½ cents each; gilt 62 cts. each.

This is the life of one of the most illustrious French missionaries of the present century, who had been appointed, just before his death, Bishop of Acanthus, and Vicar Apostolic of Western Tonquin. He is one of the Seventy Servants of God, recently declared Venerable by the Holy See, and whose beatification is still in process.

The Life of St. Francis of Assisium.

By the Rev. Titus Joslin. 1 vol. 18mo. cloth, 37½ cents; gilt edges, 62½ cents.

This book ought to be in the library of every pious Catholic. It is peculiarly suited to young men who live in the world and might learn from it how vanity and worldly pride may be overcome and made subservient to the ends of divine Providence. The beautiful examples of which it is full, if read, must do immense good.

The Paradise of the Christian Soul.

(Paradisus Animæ.) This celebrated Prayer Book, which has been gotten up under the supervision of a Catholic clergyman, and published with the lawful authority, is considered the best compendium of Catholic devotion and instruction which has ever been compiled.

The Star of Bethlehem.

A new Prayer Book. With the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop Hughes.

Bickerton, or the Immigrant's Daughter.

A Tale of the Times. 1 vol. 12mo. cloth, 192 pp., 50 cents.

Notices of the Press.

Brownson's Review says: "It is a very well written tale, adapted to the times."

The New York Truth-Teller say: "We deem this a work of more than ordinary value, especially at a period when delusion and fanaticism seem to direct public opinion. It will throw much light on matters now apparently in gloom, and thereby realize its author's design."

The Boston Pilot says: "This is an interesting story, and will be read with more than ordinary interest at the present time, as it dips into the Know Nothings in grand style. The book is well got up by the Publisher."

The Sufferings of Jesus.

Translated from the German of Catharine Emmerich. By a Sister of Mercy. 1 vol. 18mo. cloth, with a beautiful steel engraving of the "Agony in the Garden;" 37½ cents.

This volume of the visions of the sufferings of our Saviour by Catharine Emmerich, will be found to be a work suited to Catholics generally. As a work of meditation, it is adapted as well for those who live in the world as for the ascetic religious.

BENZIGER BROTHERS, PUBLISHERS AND BOOKSELLERS,

MANUFACTURERS AND IMPORTERS OF

CHURCH FURNITURE, 172 William St. corner of Beekman St. NEW YORK, AND EINSIEDELN, [SWITZERLAND.]

BENZIGER BROS. beg leave to present the following list of prices to the Most Rev., Rt. Rev. and Rev. Clergy; the Religious Communities; Educational Establishments, and to the Trade, and solicit attention to the large and varied Stock they have just opened in their new store, 172 William street, and in doing so, feel confident that their Stock of CHURCH ORNAMENTS, &c., is the most varied, and of a superior fabrication to any of the kind heretofore introduced into the United States; and, from their facilities for purchasing in Europe, are enabled to sell at a lower price than any other House in this country.

They trust to merit in the United States, by the greatly increased advantages they offer, a continuance of that support which, for a period of over forty years, has enabled them to build up, at the Pilgrimage of our Lady of the Hermits, (Einsiedeln,) an establishment, well known to many of the Hierarchy and the Rev. Clergy who have visited Switzerland, in which over four hundred persons are daily employed in the fabrication of the various articles that are used, or tend to promote devotion in the Church.

I. THEIR BOOK TRADE.

a.) PRAYER AND DEVOTIONAL BOOKS.

The assortment of their publications of Prayer and Devotional Books, in German, French, Italian and Latin, consists of over two hundred different sorts, and are illustrated with engravings unequalled for variety and beauty of design and execution; bound in various styles, and are sold wholesale at prices much lower than were ever offered. They call attention to the very flattering recommendation from His Excellency, Monsieuneur Bovieri, Apostolic Nuncio, in Switzerland.

(EIGHTH THOUSAND JUST PUBLISHED.)

The Popular Library
OF HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY, FICTION, and MISCELLANEOUS LITERATURE. A Series of Works by some of the most eminent writers of the day; Edited by MESSRS. CAPES, NORTHCOTE, and THOMPSON.

The "POPULAR LIBRARY" is intended to supply a desideratum which has long been felt, by providing at a cheap rate a series of instructive and entertaining publications, suited for general use, written expressly for the purpose, and adapted in all respects to the circumstances of the present day. It is intended that the style of the work shall be such as to engage the attention of young and old, and of all classes of readers, while the subjects will be so varied as to render the series equally acceptable for Home use, Educational purposes, or railway reading.

The following are some of the subjects which it is proposed to include in the "Popular Library," though the volumes will not necessarily be issued in the order here given. A large portion of the Series will also be devoted to works of Fiction and Entertaining Literature generally, which will be interspersed with the more solid publications here named.

Fabiola; or the Church of the Catacombs.

By his Eminence CARDINAL WISEMAN.

Price.—Cloth, extra. 12mo., 400 pages, $ 75
Gilt edges, - - - 1 12

The Press of Europe and America is unanimous in praise of this work. We give a few extracts below:—

"Eminently popular and attractive in its character, 'Fabiola' is in many respects one of the most remarkable works in the whole range of Modern Fiction. The reader will recognise at once those characteristics which have ever sufficed to identify one illustrious pen."—Dublin Review.

"We rejoice in the publication of 'Fabiola,' as we conceive it the commencement of a new era in Catholic literature."—Telegraph.

"Worthy to stand among the highest in this kind of literature."—C. Standard.

"Were we to speak of 'Fabiola' in the strong terms our feelings would prompt, we should be deemed extravagant by those who have not read it. It is a most charming book, a truly popular work, and alike pleasing to the scholars and general reader."—Brownson's Review.

"A story of the early days of Christianity, by Cardinal Wiseman, is a sufficient notice to give of this volume, lately published in London, and re-published by the Sadlier's in a very neat and cheap volume."—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

"As a series of beautifully wrought and instructive tableaux of Christian virtue and Christian heroism in the early ages, it has no equal in the English language."—American Celt.

"We think that all who read 'Fabiola' will consider it entirely successful. . . . We must do the Messrs. Sadlier the justice to say, that the book is beautifully printed and illustrated, and that it is one of the cheapest books we have seen."—Boston Pilot.

"We would not deprive our readers of the pleasure that is in store for them in the perusal of 'Fabiola;' we will therefore refrain from any further extracts from this truly fascinating work. We know, in fact, no book which has, of late years, issued from the press, so worthy of the attention of the Catholic reader as 'Fabiola.' It is a most charming Catholic story, most exquisitely told."—True Witness (Montreal).

"It is a beautiful production—the subject is as interesting, as is the ability of the author to treat of it unquestioned—and the tale itself one of the finest specimens of exquisite tenderness, lofty piety, great erudition, and vast and extended knowledge of the men and manners of antiquity, we have ever read."—Montreal Transcript.

"As a faithful picture of domestic life in the olden time of Roman splendor and prosperity, it far exceeds the Last days of Pompeii; and the scenes in the arena, where the blood of so many martyrs fertilized the soil wherein the seed of the Christian faith was fully planted, are highly dramatic, and worthy of any author we have ever read."—New York Citizen.

* * This volume is in process of translation into the French, German, Italian, Flemish and Dutch language.

Those whom the Apocalypse describes "without," "those that serve idols, and every one that loveth and maketh a lie," or who feed their imaginations on what is of earth or of hell, had better not read the book for they will not find it to their taste."—*N. M. Dupin, President of the French Academy, remarked, when awarding her the prize for virtue:—

"But there remains a difficulty, which has doubtless suggested itself to the mind of each amongst you, how is it possible for Jeanne alone to provide the expenses of so many poor? What shall I reply to you? God is Almighty! Jeanne is indefatigable, Jeanne is eloquent, Jeanne has prayers, Jeanne has tears, Jeanne has strength to work, Jeanne has her basket, which she carries untiringly upon her arm, and which she always takes home filled. Saintly woman, the Academy deposits in this basket the utmost placed at its disposal, decreeing you a prize of 3,000 francs."

"This is another of the Popular Library that the Sadliers are doing such good service by re-publishing in this country. At the earnest advice of a gifted friend, whose opinion has every weight with us, we publish entire the preface to this volume by Aubrey de Vere. It is one of the most interesting and valuable essays that has been given to the world for a long time. For the remaining contents of the book we must refer our readers to its own pages."—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

5th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

The Witch of Milton Hill.

A Tale, by the Author of "Mount St. Lawrence," "Mary, Star of the Sea."

Price.—Cloth, extra. 12mo. 50 cents.
Gilt edges, - - - 75 "

"The Tales of this Author are distinguished by a skill in the delineation of character, and life-like pictures of domestic society. The present, though bearing clear marks of the same hand, is more a story of movement and incident. It is in no sense a 'religious' novel and still less a controversial one. But the progress of the story is throughout made to depend upon the practical adoption or reception of certain principles of right and wrong, so that the 'poetical justice' awarded to every body in the end is not a mere chance consequence of circumstances, but the natural result of their character and conduct. This it is which gives their chief value to books of fiction as a means for influencing the reader's mind, and this it is which will make 'The Witch' a volume fit for general circulation to an extent which can be asked for few novels. The story is worked out with considerable ingenuity and a rapid succession of events, increasing in interest as it proceeds. 'The Witch' is a very clever story, and will suit the young as well as the old."—Tablet.

"The record of the Martyrdom of the lovely Father Azevedo and his Companions, who suffered most of them in the bloom of their years, is one of the most delightful pictures of Christian heroism that ever came under our eyes.... Few will read the touching narrative of the Massacre of the Carmes without feeling their hearts melt.... We have seldom seen so much information within so short a compass on the state of religious belief in the Chinese Empire as is given in the introductory chapter to the account of the Chinese Martyrs..... We take leave of this most interesting and edifying work, and we recommend it most heartily to the Catholic reader who loves—and who does not?—to contemplate those pictures of heroism which the Church alone has fed and called forth."—Tablet.

7th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

Blakes and Flanagans.

A Tale of the Times, Illustrative of Irish Life in the United States. By Mrs. J. SADLIER, Author of "New Lights, or Life in Galway." "Willy Burke," "Alice Riordan," &c. 12mo., 400 pages.

Price.—Cloth, extra, 75 cents.
Gilt edges, $1 12 "

In a recent visit to Montreal, the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Charbonnell, preaching on the education of children, paid the following high compliment to our Tale—"THE BLAKES AND FLANAGANS"—which turns mainly on that topic. His Lordship remarked:—

"On coming to town I called at a Bookstore to purchase a number of copies to bring with me to Quebec, but found that it was not yet printed in book-form. It is now being published in the AMERICAN CELT, and I would like to see it circulated by the hundred thousand."

"This compliment coming from the Bishop of Toronto, cannot be but highly valued by the gifted writer, Mrs. Sadlier.

"We cannot forbear assuring the Authoress, contemporaneous with announcement, and thus publicly, that her story has been read with the liveliest interest by our readers, and that it has elicited the most earnest expressions of respect for herself from persons distinguished in every walk of life.

"Before parting with our favorite contributor, let us add the following opinion recently expressed to us by a gifted Western clergyman! 'Mrs. Sadlier's story,' he said, 'has done more to bring home to the hearts of parents the importance of Catholic education, than any other, and all other advocacy combined.' This is extreme praise, but we will say, not undeserved."—American Celt.

"The style is excellent, thoroughly natural and unaffected, the narrative flowing, the conversations full of vivacity, and the characters well sustained. We cannot but wish it the widest circulation that a book can have."—St. Louis Leader.

8th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

The Life and Times of St. Bernard.

Translated from the French of M. L'ABBE RATISBONNE.
With a Preface by HENRY EDWARD MANNING, D. D., and a Portrait. 1 vol., 12mo., 500 pages.

Price.—Cloth, extra, $1 00.
Gilt edges, 1 50.

"St. Bernard was so eminently the saint of his age, that it would be impossible to write his life without surrounding it with an extensive history of the period in which he lived, and over which he may be truly said, to have ruled. The Abbé Ratisbonne has, with this view, very ably and judiciously interwoven with the personal narrative and description of the saint, the chief contemporaneous events and characters of the time.

"There seems to have been in this one mind an inexhaustible abundance, variety, and versatility of gifts. Without ever ceasing to be the holy and mortified religious, St. Bernard appears to be the ruling will of his time. He stands forth as pastor, preacher, mystical writer, controversialist, reformer, pacificator, mediator, arbiter, diplomatist, and statesman. He appears in the schools, at the altar, in the preacher's chair, in councils of the Church, in councils of the State, amid the factions of cities, the negotiations of princes, and the contests of anti-popes. And whence came this wondrous power of dealing with affairs and with men? Not from the training and schooling of this world, but from the instincts, simplicity, and penetration of a mind profoundly immersed in God, and from a will of which the fervour and singleness of aim were supernatural."—Extracts from Preface.

9th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

The Life and Victories of the Early Martyrs. By MRS. HOPE. Written for the Oratorian's Schools of our Lady's Compassion. 1 vol., 12mo., 400 pages.

Price.—Cloth, extra. $ 75.

Gilt edges, 1 12.

"The interesting Tale of 'Fabiola' has made most readers familiar with the sufferings of the Early Martyrs, and desirous to know more of their history, and of the Victories which they achieved over the world. Every age, every clime, has its martyrs, for it is a distinctive mark of the Catholic Church, that the race of martyrs never dies out. And since her earliest times, a single generation has not passed away without some of her children shedding their blood for the name of Jesus. Other religious bodies may have had a few individuals here and there and at distant intervals, who have died for their opinions. But it is in the Catholic Church alone the spirit of martyrdom has ever been alive. Nor is it difficult to account for this, as the Catholic Church is the only true Church, the devil is ever ready to raise up persecutions against her, and as the Lord ever loves his spouse, the Church, he bestows upon her all graces, and among them the grace of martyrdom, with a more lavish hand than on others."—Extract from Introduction.

10th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY, SER.

History of the War in La Vendée, and the Little Chouannerie. By G. J. HILL, M. A. With Two Maps and Seven Engravings, 12mo.

Cloth, extra, 75 cents; cloth, extra, gilt edges, $1 12.

This is a number of the popular Catholic Library now in course of publication by Messrs. Burns and Lambert, London, and Messrs. Sadlier & Co., in this city, and is one of the most interesting numbers of that valuable series that has as yet appeared. It is full of romantic incident, and is as exciting as any romance ever written. The author has grouped his incidents with much skill, and told his story with much grace and feeling. The public can hardly fail to appreciate it highly; and the intelligent reader will find it full of instruction as well as interest. The war in La Vendée was the war of the peasants, and a war chiefly for the freedom of religion. For the freedom of religion, the freedom of conscience, the freedom to have their own priests, and to worship God according to their own faith, they took up arms, and they did not lay them down till they had secured it. They were the true French patriots in the time of the Republic; the men who preserved fresh and living the France of St. Louis and the Crusaders, historical and traditional France, and it is not too much to say that they saved France in her darkest days, and prevented the continuity of her life from being broken by the madness and excesses of the revolution. They prove how much religion warms and strengthens patriotism, and that it can make undisciplined peasants able to cope successfully with the best drilled and appointed armies. When fighting for their religion, these half-unarmed peasants were invincible, and almost always victorious. When from a Catholic army they became a Royalist army, and acted under the direction of chiefs, who thought only of restoring fallen monarchy, they melted away before their enemies, as wax at the touch of fire, or were scattered as the morning mist before the rising sun.—Brownson's Review.

The period of the war was from '91 to '97, from the first proclamation of "the Civil Constitution of the Clergy" to the pacification, and consequent restoration of public worship under the Consulate. The scene of the war was the most Celtic region in the west of France, on both banks of the great Celtic river, the Loire. All Bretagne, parts of Maine, Anjou and Poitou, were engaged at various periods of the struggle, the largest number in arms being not less than 100,000 in every quarter of this country, while against them were sent in succession the armies of Generals Kleber, Westerman, and Hoche. On the side of the insurgents, the successive commanders were Cathelineau, D'Elbee, Henri de Larochejacquelein, Charette, and Stofflet; St. Malo, Quiberon, Nantes, Laval, Moulins, Fontenay, Thouars, and Angers, were the towns and cities lost and taken on both sides, but the citadel and nursery of the war was La Vendée.—American Celt.

13th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY, SER.

Callista; A Tale of the Third Century.

By Very Rev. JOHN HENRY NEWMAN, D. D., Rector of the Catholic University, Dublin.

12mo., cloth, extra, 75 cents; cloth, extra gilt, $1 12.

The following extract is from a very long notice of the work in the Dublin Tablet:

"The story is partly interwoven with historical facts, but its author professes, at the outset, that as a whole, it is 'a simple fiction from beginning to end.' However that may be, as an instrument of conveying a real and genuine historical knowledge of the days of which it treats, in their aspect towards Christianity, it will probably remain without a rival in the literary world."

Dr. Newman is peculiarly felicitous in portraying the exceeding difficulty an old Roman Pagan had in understanding the principles and motives which governed the Christian. He could not enter into his way of thinking, could not seize his stand-point, and comprehend how a man well to do in the world, intelligent, cultivated, respectable, in the road to wealth, pleasure, distinction, honors, under Paganism, should forego all his advantages, join himself to a proscribed sect, regarded as almost beneath contempt, professing, as it was assumed, a most debasing and disgusting superstition, without intelligence, common sense, and common decency, and that too when to do so was sure persecution, and almost certain death, as a traitor to Cæsar. It was a sore puzzle to the wise heathen, it is a sore puzzle also, to the proud and self-sufficient non-Catholic even to-day, and will remain so to the end of the world. It is hard even for worldly-minded Christians to comprehend how youth and beauty can forego the world, and wed themselves to an unseen Lover, and live and suffer only for an invisible Love. The solution is found only in giving our hearts to God, and living for heaven alone."—Brownson's Review."

"Mr. Bridges' excellent Popular Modern History."—Cardinal Wiseman's late Lecture on Rome.

"The author dates this history from the irruption and settlement of the barbarous nations on the ruins of the Western Empire, and brings it down, noting events as they transpired in the succeeding ages, to the present. The author has carefully compiled the work from such resources as were within his reach, and he considered were of a reliable character."—Pittsburgh Catholic."

Ancient History.

By MATTHEW BRIDGES, Esq.

Price, 75 cents.

This volume, containing, as it does, a large amount of matter, with complete indexes, tables of chronology, &c., &c., will be found equally useful for popular reading, as a Student's Text-book, or as a manual for schools.

"This is intended by the author as a companion to the popular Modern History. The works, however, are both complete in themselves."—Pittsburgh Catholic.

"These two works are what they profess to be, and give more correct views of history than any other popular volumes we are acquainted with."—Brownson's Review.

"The two works are intended to be a Manual of ancient and modern history. The author wishes to give the reader a comprehensive and distinct idea of human events, to form for himself a judicious system of history, without depending upon others, or being obliged to swear by the opinions of other historians.

"Catholicity and heresy have a great bearing on history. Protestant writers, with precious few exceptions, pervert the facts of history according to their own ideas and notions. If you believe the great bulk of Protestant historians, all the evils of the world for the last ten or twelve centuries have originated with the Catholic Church, and of course, they substantiate their charges by making the statements recorded in other histories flow as a natural emanation from Catholic doctrines. This is their system. Take, for instance, Macaulay. See what he says of the Jesuits. He will tell you that the great doings of the society are all hinged on blind obedience. No allowance is made for the zeal, the spirit of mortification and self-denial, the virtuous habits of men who have long and practically studied the spirit of the Cross, and here become heroes of sanctity. No allowance is made for the goodness of the individual, and the holiness of the institute. Matthew Bridges has seen this clearly. Hence he has followed a much better plan, in fact the only plan, which an historian must follow, and consequently he feels 'thoroughly persuaded of the truthfulness of what he has asserted or described, after years of attention to the subject, and a laborious investigation of those matters which have been fairly controverted or intentionally misrepresented.'"—Boston Pilot.

New Books Lately Published.

Fundamental Philosophy.

By Rev. JAMES BALMES. Translated from the Spanish by HENRY F. BROWNSON, M. A.; with an introduction by O. A. BROWNSON, LL. D. 2 vols. 8vo., 1,100 pp.

Cloth, extra,	$3 50
Half Morocco,	4 00
Half calf antique,	4 50

"We consider his work the best adapted to meet the wants of the philosophical student at the present time that we are acquainted with. It takes the philosophical world where it now is, and leads it step by step up the highest regions of philosophic thought, and prepares it for the reception of philosophy in its highest, simplest and truest forms. Its style is clear, simple, precise, flowing, and elegant, and contrasts favorably with that of most philosophical writers of ancient or modern times. It is just the work the American public are prepared for, and is just the one needed to give the right direction to philosophic inquiry."—Brownsen's Review.

"This book of the illustrious Spaniard was written to determine the boundaries of human science. Like Solomon, like Socrates, like all great souls, the gifted Catalan priest found his heart constantly calling on his intellect to answer, what do I know? what can I know? Of what avail is knowledge, or the pursuit of knowledge?"

"If ever he had said to himself, with the wisest Pagan of antiquity, and saddest skeptic of our own times—

—'All that we know is, nothing can be known,'

if ever this cheerless and fruitless sentiment found a lodgment in his generous mind, it is certain he got bravely over it, when he attempted such a demonstration of human capacity, as is displayed in these volumes.

"We have followed his course, we have gone over his road, as a Frank of the Carlovingian times might have travelled an old Roman causeway. We see that it is; we feel that it is solid; we believe that it is safe; we have a general conviction that it came out from Rome, and leads inevitably thither; but how those difficulties of nature, of time and place, of accident and substance, of extension and will, how they were all overcome, and brought into this ample and direct scheme of human science, we have as yet but feebly and imperfectly comprehended.

"It is no vain desire to stimulate other readers that makes us, thus early, return to the mention of these two volumes. Many of those whom we have the honor to address, made their philosophical studies under scholastic advantages we never enjoyed. Others have picked up for themselves from current literature, some principles that serve them in place of a philosophy. Because the one class are our superior in learning, we have no hope to reach them, and because the other are our equals in ignorance, we do not presume to lecture them. And yet, having the opportunity to address twelve thousand minds, of various conditions, if we should not endeavor to tell them where wisdom may be had, how can we expect to escape censure and remorse?

"The whole work is divided into ten books, of which the first volume contains but three, and the second the remainder, with the notes. Book 1st treats of Certainty; Book 2d of Sensation; Book 3d of Extension and Space; Book 4th of Ideas; Book 5th of the Idea of Being; Book 6th, of Unity and Number; Book 7th, On Time; Book 8th, on The Infinite; Book 9th, On Substance; Book 10th, On Necessity and Causality. From this table alone one may see the sweep of the Catalonian eagle's wing, which followed without being wearied, whenever his eagle eye detected the object of its quest. It is impossible to read such a book in a few days, or to digest its contents in a few months. In some number of our next volume we may venture to discuss its merits. To-day we are only able to give it the usual notice due to new publications."—American Celt.

"Mr. H. Brownson has conferred a substantial service upon the English and American public, by his translation of the great work of the learned Spaniard. For, as it is well observed in the preface, "He who translates well a good book from a foreign language into his own, does a service to his country next to that of writing a good book himself;" and the translator has here given us a good English translation of an excellent book. In its English version, it has been carefully examined by the learned Dr. Brownson, who has also enriched it with a very valuable 'Introduction;' and the highest credit is due to the enterprising publishers for the handsome style in which it has been brought out. With all these advantages the work we hope will meet with an extensive circulation."—Montreal True Witness.

"The name alone of Balmes, one of the best writers and profoundest philosophers of the present century, is a sufficient guarantee of the excellence and solidity of the above-named work."—Boston Pilot.

An Elementary Greek Grammar, based ON THE LATEST GERMAN EDITION OF KÜH-NER. By CHARLES O'LEARY, M. A.

Large 12mo., half arabesque, 75 cents.

The want has been generally felt of an Elementary Greek Grammar, on the modern improved system of German Grammars. This system has been taught for some years at Mount St. Mary's College, both by Professor O'Leary and others, with marked advantage to the student over the old system.

Induced by this consideration, Professor O'Leary has compiled the present treatise. The plan pursued, is that followed in teaching at the above College, which is virtually that adopted in the Grammars of which it professes to be an abridgement.

The Grammar aims at giving in a clear and brief form all the advantages of Kühner's, apart from the incidental disquisitions, numerous details, and special examples of the original.

The student is made acquainted with the laws that govern the interchange of letters, and thus furnished with a key to the forms and changes of declinable words, which in the old Grammars were matters of rote.

The structure of the verb is presented in an entirely new form, whereby it is much simplified. The syntax is an abridgement of Kühner's, by Jelf, brief and simple, so as to accord with the general object of the Grammar.

"The Professor of Greek in Mount St. Mary's College, near Cincinnati, speaks of the order, clearness, and brevity of the new Grammar in the highest terms, and thinks it destined to supersede all others now used in the schools."—Catholic Telegraph.

"The great advantage of this Grammar over the Greek Grammars heretofore in use is, that it renders the rudiments of the language much easier to learn and retain, inasmuch as they are less a multitude of isolated instances fatiguing the memory of the student than the legitimate deductions of the scientific principles of the language. We recommend the book to the examination of teachers. As far as we have had time to examine it ourselves, we have been much pleased with it."—Brownson's Review.

CARDINAL LAMBRUSCHINI'S CELEBRATED

Work on the Immaculate Conception.

A Polemical Treatise on the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin, by CARDINAL LAMBRUSCHINI, to which is added, a History of the Doctrine, by FATHER FELIX, S. J. The French portion of the work is translated by Mrs. J. SADLIER, and the Latin extracts from the Holy Fathers, by a Clergyman of the Diocese of Montreal. 12mo., with a fine steel engraving.

Cloth, extra, 50 cents; gilt, 75 cents.

"The style in which this volume is presented to the public does great honor to the publishers. Like all Mrs. Sadlier's translations, it is carefully and correctly translated. One can read it without having the thought of its being a translation continually before the mind. The History of the Doctrine, by Father Felix, S. J., also translated by Mrs. Sadlier, greatly enhances the value of this volume. We most heartily commend it to all those who wish to possess the most valuable work on the Immaculate Conception which has appeared in this country."—Brownson's Review.

A MONUMENT TO THE GLORY OF MARY.

NEW AND ELEGANT ILLUSTRATED WORK!

Published with the Approbation of the MOST REV. JOHN HUGHES, D. D.,
ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary,
MOTHER OF GOD;

With the HISTORY OF THE DEVOTION TO HER ;
Completed by the Traditions of the East, the Writings of Fathers, and Private History of the Jews. By the ABBE
ORSINI. To which are added the MEDITATIONS ON THE LITANY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN. By the ABBE EDONARD BARTHE. Translated from the French, by MRS. J. SADLIER.

This magnificent work of the Abbé Orsini was recommended to me by those whose judgment carries weight in such matters, as the fullest and most compendious Life of the Mother of God, seeing that it does not break off, as most others do, at the close of her mortal life, but follows the course of the universal devotion wherewith the Church has honoured, and does still honour, this Queen of angels and of men. It shows how from age to age that devotion has grown and prospered coequal with Catholicity, and records the shrines and churches erected in every land under her invocation. It embodies the Eastern traditions concerning her, with the conclusive testimony of the Fathers; the little which is related of her in Scripture being but a faint sketch of her life.

There has been an abridgment of the first volume published in Dublin and republished here: but, as all the second volume was left out, the work in question is a small one, and has, consequently, no interference with this. The second volume is, indeed, the most interesting, as it contains the Rise and Progress of the Devotion to the Blessed Virgin, and I trust it will be found a valuable acquisition to our Catholic literature. It is a labor of love for a Catholic to celebrate the praises and publish the renown of our most dear Mother, and my only regret is that the translation of this work has not fallen into better hands. Such as it is, however, it is done with the pure intention of honouring the glorious Virgin, who obtains for every one of us so many and so great blessings, and of inspiring the heart of every reader with love and gratitude to her.—Translator's Preface.

This is the only COMPLETE LIFE OF CHRIST AND HIS APOSTLES published in the English language. The Catholic Press have spoken of the work in the most favourable manner.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

“We cordially congratulate the Catholics of the United States on the appearance of a work at once so important and interesting as Father De Ligny's Life of Christ. It is already widely known and appreciated on the continent of Europe, where it has long been prized as one of the most useful of devotional works. Mrs. Sadlier, to whom the Catholics of the United States are already much indebted for her valuable contributions to our Catholic literature, has rendered Father De Ligny's work into our tongue with singular felicity, and a nice regard to the original text. The work is superbly printed, and appears in parts, at the very low price of twenty-five cents per number. The steel engravings are done in the best style of the art, and are after designs by Rubens, Vandyke, De Caisne, Scheffer, and other eminent masters of the old school. We know no Catholic publication of more general utility, and really so cheap. It has already attained a wide circulation in Europe, and we doubt not but that it will be soon found in every Catholic home in the new world."—American Celt.

EXTRACT FROM THE AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

"I respectfully lay this humble volume at the feet of the Venerable Prelates and Clergy of the United States, not as worthy of their patronage, or even of their notice, but as a mark of filial reverence and submission, and of profound and lively gratitude for their kind encouragement, and generous and uniform support of my humble labours in the cause of Catholic truth.

"I would also inscribe it to my Protestant countrymen. They will find in it many reasons why I have ceased to be a Protestant, but none I hope, for believing that I have lost any of my former interest in them, or that their welfare here or hereafter is less dear to me than ever it was. My sympathies with my fellow-men, which, perhaps, are livelier and deeper than some suppose, have been quickened and expanded, not deadened and contracted, by my conversion to Catholicity. I have said nothing in the following pages in wrath; I have spoken only in love.

"Placing this volume, though all unworthy, with devout gratitude and tender love, under the protection of our Blessed Lady, as I do myself and all my interests, I send it forth to the public, hoping that it may contain a fit word fitly spoken for some earnest mind struggling to emancipate itself from error, and to burst into 'the glorious liberty of the children of God.'

“ The Sadliers have brought out an edition of Thomas à Kempis' ‘Imitation of Christ,’ which deserves special commendation for the beauty of typography, paper, and binding. ALBAN BUTLER, as originally published by him in twelve, now complete in four volumes, royal octavo, containing upwards of 3,100 pages of letter-press, printed in a clear, bold type, with marginal lines, from entirely new stereotype plates, which for beauty and excellence of finish cannot be excelled.

SUPERB NEW EDITIONS OF THE HOLY BIBLE.

From the Versions of Douay and Rheims, translated from the Latin Vulgate, and diligently compared with the Hebrew, Greek, and other editions in various languages. Published with the Approbation of the Most Rev. JOHN HUGHES, D. D., Archbishop of New York.

The Old Testament was first published by the English college at Douay, A. D. 1609; and the New Testament by the English college at Rheims, A. D. 1582. The paper is excellent, the type is large and beautiful, and it is the only new copy of the sacred volume published in this country. The proof sheets of this work have been read several times with the greatest care, and we are happy to inform those interested that a single error has not been detected, either by the Rev. clergy or editors who have examined the work. It is not necessary to enter into detail; suffice it to say, that this edition has the Table of References, Annotations, Historical and Chronological Indexes of the Old and New Testament, Table of Controversial References, comprising the scriptural texts applicable to all the principal controverted points, Table of Epistles and Gospels for all the Sundays and holydays throughout the year, and all the other tables usually contained in the sacred volume. The ILLUSTRATIONS, Twenty-six in number, several of which have been executed in London, are superior to any thing of the kind executed in this country. It has four Family Records, executed expressly for this work ; and as regards the "getting up" of the work, it cannot be surpassed. In order to make this edition more valuable, it has appended to it Ward's Errata, revised and corrected from the last London Edition, to which are added the celebrated Preface by the Rev. Doctor Lingard, in answer to Ryan's Analysis ; and a Vindication by the Right Rev. Dr. Milner in answer to Grier's Reply. This is very valuable to Protestants as well as Catholics, and to all those who wish carefully to examine and compare the Catholic and Protestant editions of the Bible."

Printed on the finest paper, with rules, and bound in Turkey, super extra, with rich ornamental gilding, and emblematical designs expressly executed for this work, also treble gilt clasps, morocco joints and corresponding panels, beautifully embellished after the antique style, altogether a most gorgeous Book, and well suited for a Marriage, Christmas, or Family present.

Pope and Maguire's Discussion.

Perhaps no discussion ever excited so much attention as this. Rev. Mr. Pope was an itinerant controversialist, who went about challenging the priests to come forth and defend the doctrines of their Church,—the Rev. Mr. Maguire accepted the challenge. Up to that time his name was scarcely known beyond the precincts of his parish, (which was situated in the mountains of Leitrim,) but after the discussion, "Father Maguire" became the most popular Priest in Ireland. Pope retired from the contest conscious of defeat, for he never challenged any more priests.

The second volume is addressed to the working classes, with a dedication to Sir Robert Peel, Bart. Doctrinal and Scriptural Catechism.

BY THE REV. PERE COLLOT, Doctor of the Sorbonne. Translated from the French, by MRS. J. SADLIER. For the use of the Brothers of the Christian Schools.

This is considered by competent judges as the most complete, and at the same time, the most concise Catechism of the Christian Religion and of Scripture History that has yet been offered to the public. It is admirably adapted for adults requiring instruction as well as for children. The answers are all so condensed that they are easily committed to memory; and there is not a single point connected with religion, either of doctrine, discipline, or ceremonial, that is not fully explained.

An Elementary History of the United STATES. By JOHN G. SHEA.

16mo. Half Roan, 25 cents.

Many books of the kind are already before the public, not a few on the same topic as this. It was, however, thought that something might be done to avoid the faults of tone or matter in some and of manner in others.

According to the rule laid down in the best Continental works on Education, the answer is always given in full explicit terms, repeating and never supposing the question. In this way the child learns and retains in its memory complete sentences, comprising each a fact worthy of recollection, and not a detached date or name. In teaching, this should also be insisted upon, and when the class begins to compose, the advantage acquired by learning to speak complete sentences, will be evinced perhaps more strikingly than in any other way.

From the plan thus adopted this little book may be read continuously from first to last, omitting the questions, and will in this way serve as a primary reader.

"The selection of this story is additional evidence of the good taste of Mrs. Sadlier, and of her right Catholic feeling. Benjamin is a boy who was thrown upon the world at a very early age, and who finally turned out well. The story is intended to illustrate the ease with which a good child is corrupted by bad companions, the difficulty of winning him from evil courses, and the immense importance of a truly Christian education for the young. The system pursued by the Christian Brothers is fully vindicated in the little book. We recommend it, not only to children, but to the attentive consideration of parents." —Boston Pilot.

This Manual contains, in addition to forms in general use, various devotions selected from approved Continental works. The Prayers, Litanies, &c., &c., have been collated with the Latin originals, wherever such works were known to exist. The English version of the Psalms here given, has been constructed by a comparison of the authorized Douay text (to which in substance it adheres), with the several other versions which from time to time have been sanctioned for the purpose of devotions. The Indulgenced Prayers have been literally translated from the Racotta, Bouvier's Treatise on Indulgences, and the last edition of the Celestæ Palmetuni. The particulars connected with the Confraternities, &c., to which Indulgences are attached, have been carefully collected from authorized sources, published with the approbation of His Eminence Cardinal Wiseman. The American edition has been enlarged with numerous translations from the French and Italian, and selections of prayers in general use in this country; together with the complete offices of the Blessed Virgin, and Gospels and Collects for every Sunday throughout the year, and explanations of all the Festivals, with a large number of Novenas, Litanies, and a list of the Popes, &c., &c.

The following outline of the Contents, will give some idea of its fulness:—

New and Complete Missal,
IN LATIN AND ENGLISH, with all the New Offices and the Proper of Ireland, Scotland, and the Jesuits. With engravings, and printed throughout in red and black.

This volume is a marvel of typography, and supplies a desideratum which had long been felt, viz.—an edition of the Missal for the use of the laity, with every Office for the whole year in full, clearly arranged, printed in a distinct type, and in the smallest possible compass.—The volume is 6 inches by $3\frac{1}{2}$ in size, one inch thick, and weighs only 16 ozs.; by post, 16 cents. Among other characteristics of this edition, for which see the preface, a new and useful arrangement has been adopted with regard to the Epistles and Gospels. Many of these, as is well known, are used for various Masses, and in other Missals have to be sought for in different parts of the book, often causing much trouble and confusion. In the present edition all the lessons are printed together in their proper order in the second part of the volume; so that where the reference to the Epistle and Gospel is given in the Mass for the day, the reader knows at once to turn for them to the end of the book. The whole body of Scripture contained in the Missal is thus also thrown together under one view, with a table showing the occasion on which each passage is used.

The Way to Heaven.

A SELECT MANUAL OF PRAYERS for Daily Use,
Compiled from approved Sources, with the Approbation of Most Rev. JOHN HUGHES, D. D., Archbishop of New York.

This Manual is intended as a companion to the more complete books of devotion already existing, and is compiled upon a plan which, it is hoped, will render it generally acceptable. Such a book as "The Golden Manual," or "Garden of the Soul," comprising forms of Devotions for every occasion, as well as instructions and explanations, is of course, an indispensable companion for the devout Catholic. But, besides this, most persons feel the want of a small compact Manual, containing a selection simply of such devotions as are most frequently required. This and the larger work together, will thus be found to supply all that is generally needed, for the purposes whether of public or private devotion. And each can be used according as circumstances suggest. This Manual, as well as its more complete companion, contains it will be seen, a large number of prayers to which indulgences are attached. Such are, for the sake of convenience, distinguished by an asterisk. A more convenient arrangement has been adopted for the Ordinary of the Holy Mass, Devotions at Mass, Mass for the Dead, and Vespers. New translations of the following Devotions, now published for the first time in English, are also inserted. Way of saying the Rosary with the Beads, four different ways are given. Visits to the Most Holy Sacrament, Mysteries of the Sacred Infancy, Dwellings in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Seven Words of Jesus on the Cross, Little Rosary of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Rosary of the Immaculate Conception, Rosary of the Seven Dolours of our Blessed Lady, Sorrows and Joys of St. Joseph, Devotions to St. Philip Neri, with a number of others.

We send this little book before the public, with the assurance that no expence has been spared to make it, with the exception of the Golden Manual, the most complete Manual published in this country.

WORKS ON IRELAND.

P. 50 cts.

THE HISTORY OF IRELAND, Ancient and Modern.

Taken from the most authentic records, and dedicated to the Irish Brigade, by the ABBE MACGEOGHEGAN. Translated from the French by PATRICK O'KELLY, Esq., with four fine Steel Engravings. This important national history is printed in clear type, on fine paper, with marginal lines, and has been most favorably reviewed by the American and European Press.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Our citizens have now a most favorable opportunity of supplying themselves with the best History of Ireland extant. There are several works devoted to the subject, but some are corrupt, others bigoted, many incomplete and inaccurate. We may say of Keating, Leland, Plowden, Taylor, Moore, Smiles, &c., that their histories are defective or incomplete. Common consent seems to have fixed upon the work of the Abbé MacGeoghegan as the best. The author was chaplain of the illustrious 'Irish Brigade,' a patriotic son of Ireland, and an accomplished scholar of polished and unusual acquirements. He had the best opportunities and full leisure in the French capital for the formation of his history. It is considered a work most faithful and honest, accurate in detail, liberal, patriotic, and high-toned in sentiment, and more complete than any other History of Ireland that we possess."—Freeman's Journal.

The late lamented Thomas Davis, in an Essay on Irish History, speaks of this work as follows:—

"Well, as to this National History—L'Abbé MacGeoghegan published a history of Ireland in French, in 3 vols., quarto, dedicated to the Irish Brigade. Writing in France, he was free from English censorship—writing for 'The Brigade,' he avoided the impudence of Huguenot historians. The sneers of the Deist, Voltaire, and the lies of the Catholic Cambrensis, receive a sharp chastisement in his preface, and a full answer in his text. He was a man of the most varied acquirements, and an elegant writer. For the student of Irish History it is the best book in the world. He is graphic, easy, and Irish. He is not a bigot, but apparently a genuine Catholic. His information as to the number of troops and other facts of our Irish Battles, is superior to any other general Historian, and they who know it well need not blush, as most Irishmen must now, at their ignorance of Irish History."

The Rise and Fall of the Irish Nation.

THE RISE AND FALL OF THE IRISH NATION, by Sir JONAH BARRINGTON, one of his Majesty's counsel at law, judge of the high court of admiralty of Ireland, and member of the late Irish parliament for the cities of Tuam and Clogher. The work contains much valuable information and interesting matter never before published, sketches of the leading members of both sides who figured so conspicuously during that memorable epoch of Irish history. It also contains the red and black list, showing the bribery and corruption by which the Union was carried. The work is a handsome royal 12mo. volume of 472 pages, beautifully printed on fine paper, with portraits of the Author, Fitzgerald, Curran, Grattan, and other distinguished personages on both sides, in all 29 miniature portraits on Steel.

The above work is admitted by competent judges, to be one of the most beautiful productions of the day. It was sold in Dublin, when first published, at $10. Such is its intrinsic merits, that it has been admitted by the Superintendants of Public Schools, into the District School Libraries of the various States. No Irishman, who is desirous of becoming acquainted with that epoch of his country's history—the rise of the volunteers—the declaration of rights—and the debates connected with that tyrannous act, the Legislative Union; should fail to possess a copy of this admirable work.

" 'The Rise and Fall of the Irish Nation,' is one of the most picturesque and eloquent books in the whole range of our language. Its sketches of political scenes and characters, are, without comparison, the most life-like we know. It is a treasure of a book; one we would not exchange for any ten National books we have."—American Celt.

Valentine McClutchy.

VALENTINE McCLUTCHY, the Irish Agent; the Chronicles of Castle Cumber; together with the Pious Aspirations, Permissions, and other Sanctified Privileges of Solomon McSlime, a Religious Attorney. By WILLIAM CARLETON.

In this work Mr. Carleton has depicted the wrongs and sufferings of his countrymen—their patience and forbearance under their sufferings. And in the character of Valentine McClutchy, he shows the villany practised by the agents of absentee landlords, upon those tenants who are so unfortunate as to hold lands from them.

And as a specimen of a religious Attorney, we would challenge creation to produce a more correct picture than that drawn by Carleton of Solomon McSlime. We venture to say that there is not an Irishman, who would read ten pages of the work, that would be without it for ten times the cost.—Full muslin, embossed, gilt back, 75 cents.

ACKNOWLEDGING THE RECEIPT OF A COPY OF THIS BIBLE.

PIUS, P. P. IX.

Health and Apostolical Benediction. We have received, with great pleasure, your letter of August 25th, in which, as a mark of your devotion, piety, and reverence for ourself, you offer Us, Beloved Sons, a present of two books, recently, among others, published by you for the greater good of our most holy religion. Given at St. Peter's in Rome, the third day of November, in the year 1855—the tenth of our Pontificate.

Pius IX.

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to thank you for the copy which you have been good enough to send me of your edition of Haydock's Bible. It is magnificent, and must, I am sure, obtain universal approbation.

I am,

Yours faithfully in Xt.,

✠ N. Card. Wiseman,

ARCHBISHOP OF WESTMINSTER.

The grand Haydock's Bible which you sent me long ago, has at last reached me. The richness of the paper, the accuracy of the print, the elegance of the engravings, and the magnificence of the binding, ought to convince all impartial Protestants either that you are very bad businessmen in publishing so large and so costly a volume, or that they were imposed upon when taught that Catholics are not allowed to read the Bible. I shall ever keep your gift side by side with another precious copy of the Sacred Scriptures published in 1565.

✠ Joseph S. Alemany,

ARCHBISHOP OF SAN FRANCISCO.

I regard your splendid edition of Haydock's Catholic Bible as a real work of art, doing the greatest honor to Catholic typography in the United States; but, accompanied as it is with the useful and learned notes of the Rev. George Haydock, I see and value in it a treasure of doctrine and piety open both to the clergy and laity.

Receive, dear sir, my best respects, and I may add, the expression of my gratitude for the eminent services you have done the Church in this country.

Your ob't serv't,

✠ Aug. Martin,

BP. OF NATCHITOCHES.

TESTIMONIALS OF APPROBATION.

"The beauty, the elegance, the exquisite perfection of your magnificent edition of Haydock's Bible, honor extremely the zeal and intelligence of the publishers, and cannot be better employed than in adding dignity to the Word of God. I cannot, therefore, but highly approve your pious undertaking, and join my suffrage to the judgment which your Ordinary, the learned Archbishop of New York, has pronounced, after mature investigation, and to the praises of the other venerable Bishops of the United States: but I will especially echo the august voice of the Sovereign Pontiff, Pius IX., by offering you the most sincere felicitations on all your labors to extend the Catholic Church and increase piety, by diffusing in your country, amid Protestantism, so many edifying works.

✠ Bartholomew Charles Romilli,

"ARCHBISHOP OF MILAN"

"I most willingly adhere to the approval of this edition of the Holy Bible, given by my Most Rev. Friend and Brother in Christ, the Archbishop of New York; and I shall not fail to recommend its use to the clergy and faithful of the Ecclesiastical province of Quebec.

✠ P. F.,

"ARCHBISHOP OF QUEBEC."

"I return you thanks for your splendid edition of the Bible with Haydock's notes. I am happy to find that you have completed your arduous undertaking, and trust that a rapid sale will reward your noble enterprise.

✠ Francis Patrick Kenrick,

"ARCHB. BALT."

"I feel proud of adding my approbation to that of your illustrious Archbishop, and unite with all the Prelates and Catholics of this country, in felicitating you on the auspicious consummation of so noble an undertaking. Wishing you a long succession of years distinguished by labors and virtues, such as merited for you the letter and gold medal from the Holy Father with his Apostolic blessing,

"I remain, &c., ✠ J. B. Purcell,

"ABP. CIN."

"I cheerfully authorize you to use my name in recommending it to the patronage of the Catholics in the United States.

✠ L. de Goesbriand,

"BP. OF BURLINGTON, VT."

ADDITIONAL APPROBATIONS.

"Please accept my thanks for your new and unabridged edition of Haydock's Catholic Bible, and enlist my name among your subscribers, who, I sincerely hope, will be as numerous as you have unquestionable right to expect, for the unsurpassed care which you have given to this precious publication.

"I have the honor to remain,

"Your affect. serv't,

"✠ Ant.,

"ABP. OF N. ORLEANS."

"Your edition of the Bible just issued, with the approval of your Ordinary, is one of the most beautiful editions of the sacred volume which has appeared up to the present. Accompanied, as it is, with many valuable explanatory notes, it will be acceptable to the student and occasional reader of the Sacred Scriptures.

"✠ Bernard O'Reilly,

"BP. OF HARTFORD."

"I shall be most happy to recommend your most splendid edition of Haydock's Bible to the faithful of this Diocese, and especially to our clergy, who, I am convinced, will find it elegant in appearance and rich in learning.

"✠ Patrick, Bp. of Carrahe,

"ADM. AP. OF KINGSTON."

"Your magnificent and complete edition of Haydock's Bible received my approbation before it was commenced. It was, as I have reason to suppose, chiefly on my recommendation, that your lamented brother determined to republish it here. It is, without doubt, the most complete edition of the Holy Scriptures in English, and one of the finest specimens of printing yet put forth in this country.

"✠ James,

"BP. OF NEWARK."

"I sincerely congratulate you on the zeal you display in the publication of Haydock's Bible, and I am happy to add my humble approbation of an undertaking so useful to the Church, and so glorious for yourselves, to those of so many illustrious prelates, able to appreciate your work as it deserves.

"✠ Aug. M. All. Blanchet,

"You may place my name among those of the other Prelates, who recommend your edition to the public.

✠ Peter Richard,

"ABP OF ST. LOUIS."

"I greatly admire and commend your beautifully illustrated edition of the Holy Bible, with Haydock's valuable notes. Your zeal and enterprise are certainly deserving of all praise, and will, I hope, be rewarded by a widely extended patronage.

✠ John,

"BP. OF ALBANY"

"Of the circulation of your edition of Haydock's Bible in my diocese, I do not merely declare my cordial approval, but my most earnest wish, that it may find a home and readers in every family.

✠ Richard Vincent,

"BP. OF WHEELING."

"The correctness of the edition of which yours is a reprint, and the value of the notes attached to it, are facts which need not now be proved, for they are well known to all who read the Holy Scriptures in English. The testimony of the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York, prefixed to your edition, furnishes sufficient evidence of the accuracy and faithfulness with which you have performed your part in its reproduction. If, however, you think that my approval may be of any benefit, you are free to make use of it.

"Yours respectfully,

✠ John B. Fitzpatrick,

BP. OF BOSTON."

"I feel extremely anxious to see this splendid edition among the Catholics of my diocese, and I shall do every thing in my power to circulate it—at least to recommend it. It will prove a rich mine to refute the objections and remove the prejudices of the enemies of our holy religion.

✠ James Oliver,

BP. OF NATCHEZ."

Additional Approbations.

"I know not in what terms to express my admiration of your energy, enterprise and success, in producing a work that reflects credit upon our country and religion. I will do all I can to further its circulation.

"Yours, in our Lord,

✠ George Aloysius,

"BP. OF COVINGTON."

"If my approbation be deemed of any service, most cheerfully do I give it. I will also do all in my power to make this new publication known through the diocese of Galveston. Your zeal to enrich the country with useful books, cannot be sufficiently praised. God, I hope, will reward your generous efforts, and prosper your religious undertakings, so favorable to the diffusion of our holy faith.

✠ J. M. Odin,

"BP. OF GALVESTON."

"I most cheerfully concur with the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York and other prelates of this country in approving of this republication, and do strongly recommend it to the clergy and faithful of the diocese of Detroit.

✠ Peter Paul,

"BP. Z. C. A. DETROIT."

"I take great pleasure in joining with the other prelates in the approbation of your Bible with a sincere desire not only to warrant, but also to encourage the circulation of this splendid work throughout the extent of my diocese.

✠ John Martin,

"BP. OF MILWAUKEE."

✠ Richard Pius Miles,

"BP. OF NASHVILLE."

' At the request of Messrs. Dunigan & Brother I cheerfully join in recommending their new edition of 'Haydock's Catholic Bible,' a work so much esteemed, and now republished with the approbation of the Most Rev. Dr. Hughes, Archbishop of New York.

Additional Approbations.

' I trust that the Catholic community, not only in the dioceses of Chicago and Quincy, but throughout the Union, will, whilst seeking instruction in the Book of Life, show their appreciation of your enterprise and success, in presenting to them this Holy Volume in so learned, perfect and beautiful a form.

✠ "Anthony,

"BISHOP OF CHICAGO."

"The recommendation of the distinguished Bishop Hughes, and the little I have read of the notes, are more than sufficient to induce me to be a patron of your important and useful new edition of Haydock's Bible. I highly approve your bold and holy work. God will reward you.

✠ Joseph Cretin,

"BISH. OF ST. PAUL."

"The approbation of so many distinguished prelates, without the addition of mine, which I freely give, is more than sufficient to warrant the circulation of that valuable work in my diocese.

✠ Maurice,

"BP. OF VINCENNES."

"I most heartily concur with so many of my Right Rev. Brethren in the approbation and recommendation of Ed. Dunigan & Brother's most magnificent edition of the Catholic Bible, with Haydock's notes unabridged. ✠ "David William,

"BP. OF PORTLAND."

"I am very happy that your zeal for our holy religion, which displays itself in your late edition of Haydock's Bible, with its numerous and useful comments and notes, gives me a chance to write to you. *

* * * 'By all means, by sea or by land,' remember well that I must have these Bibles, because I am sure they will be beneficial to the cause of religion in this country.

The Mission Book.

A MANUAL OF INSTRUCTION AND PRAYER, ADAPTED TO PRESERVE THE FRUIT OF THE MISSION. Drawn chiefly from the Works of St. ALPHONSUS LIGUORI, published under the direction of the Fathers of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer.

Besides being a manual to revive and renew the good effects of the mission, this Prayer-book contains all the necessary and general devotions; namely, Morning and Night Prayers, Prayers for Mass, Vespers, and Benediction, and an excellent preparation for Confession and Communion. It embraces, too, all the particular devotions in most common use among Catholics, and other very useful and animating devotions, such as the Visits to the Most Blessed Sacrament of the Altar, and to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Besides these it contains wholesome reflections for daily or frequent meditation, which will prove a powerful means to maintain all in the fear of mortal sin, the desire of a holy life, and the practice of every virtue. Compiled by such practical directors, the work must needs be suited to the time and country, and as it is drawn mainly from the writings of St. Alphonsus Liguori, it is useless to say that it is replete with unction and tender piety.

Lyra Catholica,

The most comprehensive and elegant Catholic Hymn-book printed in the English language.

This unique work is the only collection of Catholic Hymns and Devotional Poetry in the English language. It is not only a work of devotion, but one for general perusal. It comprises all the hymns of the Roman Breviary, all the hymns and sequences of the Missal, with a selection from the Breviary of Paris and Cluny, and from the Italian "Raccolta." Of these pieces, every one is newly translated by Mr. Caswell, and probably more than half of them appear in English for the first time, from his hand. Altogether, his version combines, in a very high degree, elegance, vigor, and poetical fire of thought and diction, with the still more important requisites of fidelity to the lofty religious spirit of his originals, and a most exact transfusion of their Catholic faith, fervent piety, and doctrinal integrity, and is a most valuable addition to our devotional literature.

The second part comprises a selection of Hymns and Anthems, for particular occasions of devotion, from various approved sources, viz: Archbishop Hughes, Faber, Pise, and others of the highest genius.

The third part is devoted to sacred poetry, of a less strictly devotional cast, from the compositions of writers of the most unquestioned Catholicity, genuine piety and pure morality.

It is, above all, fully and fearlessly Catholic in its spirit, in its tone, in its imagery, and in its language. And, in addition to these negative, but very important excellencies, its positive merits, in a literary point of view, are of the very highest order.—Dublin Review.

As a composition, it is one of the most perfect specimens of translation in the English language, and so excellently adapted to devotional purposes.—London Tablet.

THE MOST REV. JOHN HUGHES, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

The Doctrinal Catechism.

Being a new and enlarged edition of Scheffmacher's Controversial Catechism,

By the Rev. Stephen Keenan.

No controversial work is more popular in Europe, than Scheffmacher's Catechism, the master-piece of the celebrated Jesuit. A translation was much needed, but in adapting it to English readers, the Rev. Mr. Keenan has made such improvements and additions, in order to suit it to our times, that it may justly be considered a new work. In the present shape it is invaluable. It discusses every point.

Being in the form of question and answer, the best ever discovered for conveying instruction, solving objections, and expounding truths, it is peculiarly adapted for general circulation.

NOTICES.

It is well calculated for giving the inquirer an insight into the tenets and practices of the true Church.—U. S. Catholic Magazine.

It is an epitome of Controversy, in which the various controverted points are examined with great learning and judgment. It bears the impress of deep research, and shows how much the author has mastered the subject which he handles.—London Tablet.

The Controversial Catechism is a masterly instance of special pleading, and is admirably fitted both to strengthen the attachment of Catholics to their own creed, and to bring over to that mode of thinking no inconsiderable number of those who, calling themselves Protestants, are yet but partially informed as to the reason of their hope.—Macphail's Ecclesiastical Magazine.

The Poor Man's Catechism; Or, the Christian Doctrine Explained, with short Admonitions.

By the Rev. John A. Mannock, O. S. B.

No commendation is needed of this well-known and highly approved Catechism. The multiplied editions of it wherever English is spoken, are a sure index of its worth. As is well known, it is not merely a Catechism, but a book of excellent instructions and exhortations on the various points.

THE EIGHTH EDITION OF

Kirwin Unmasked.

A Review of Kirwin, in Six Letters.

Addressed to the Rev. Nicholas Murray, D. D., of Elizabethtown,

By the Most Rev. John Hughes, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

These letters appeared originally in the New York Freeman's Journal, and are now republished in book form.

They are marked by all the clearness of language, felicity of illustration, and closeness of logic, which invariably characterize the productions of the distinguished author, and possess the additional merit of treating the subject in the most easy and familiar style. It is admirably adapted for circulation among all who lack either the time or inclination for reading more extensive volumes.

Price—6½ cents, or 50 cents per dozen.

NOTICES.

In these letters the Rev. Nicholas Murray is exhibited to the public in a very unenviable light, and is lashed with the power and sarcasm which he well deserves.—United States Catholic Magazine.

It is probable that Mr. Murray designed to get into a religious controversy with Bishop Hughes, and from being thus made the champion of his own portion of Protestants, to elevate himself by the controversy. The American Bossuet had already annihilated the best champions of the Protestant cause, and could not well stoop to argument on religious matters with one such as these valuable letters show Mr. Murray to have been.—Truth Teller.

Brooksiana ; or, the Controversy between Senator Brooks and Archbishop Hughes, Growing out of the recently enacted Church Property Bill, with an introduction by the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York.

"Few questions of comparatively local character have arisen in modern times to which circumstances have so much attracted public attention, as the question of the late Church Property Bill, passed in the Legislature of New York, and the incidents antecedent to or growing out of its enactments."—Introduction.

"The controversy growing out of the Church Property Bill in this State possesses more than a transitory interest. * * * * Let no one imagine that this a war against Archbishop Hughes ; it is a crusade against the Catholic Church."—Citizen.

"The right of every citizen to possess his own property to the full, that is with the right of alienation to any other citizen, and for any purpose—the right of religious communities to regulate their own organization and to hold property honestly obtained for religious purposes—the usurpation of the State in confiscating to itself and giving it to corporations—the spirit of this legislation, aggressive against a single sect and too cowardly to name it—the permanence of written consutations were all involved in the question."—*Albany Eve. Eucharistica ; or, A Series of Pieces, Original and Translated, on the Most Holy and Adorable Sacrament of the Eucharist.

By the Most Rev. WM. WALSH, D. D.

The Blessed Sacrament, the keystone of Catholic faith and worship, is no less the source of true piety. A Eucharistic Manual, whence we may from day to day draw new motives of fervor, cannot but be most acceptable, when we reflect that the Visits of St. Liguori is almost the only one accessible to English readers.

The name of the Metropolitan of Halifax is such a guarantee of the present work, that no encomium is needed.

It is both doctrinal and devotional, and contains many articles of exceeding value. Here in a small compass the Catholic will find treatises on the Real Presence, the Adoration of the Eucharist, the Mass, the Altar, the Sacred Heart, Corpus Christi and its procession. In addition to this, we have Bourdaloue's Instruction on Communion, and Bossuet's Instructions for First Communion, with a Memorial to preserve its fruits ; and besides all this, devotions and pious readings for the time of approaching the Holy Sacrament.

In this excellent selection of devotions are the Eucharistic Week, the Rosary of the Blessed Sacrament, Prayers for Mass, the Litany, Psalms and Hymns adapted to those happy moments, or to times devoted to the honor of the Sacrament.

This invaluable work, the treasure of Seminaries, and religious houses of every order, so justly styled the "daily bread" of the novice in the ways of perfection, is not less valuable for every Christian family. It is written with a knowledge of the heart, an unction and power rarely equalled. The Saints of the later centuries have been lavish of praises on the work of Rodriguez. Or, Meditations on the Blessed Sacrament.

By the Abbe de la Bouillerie, Vicar-general of Paris.

Translated by a Religious of the order of the Visitation.

This admirable work, which in deep and tender piety, unction and devotion, resembles the golden books of St. Alphonsus Liguori, was drawn up for the association of the Perpetual Adoration, and recommended by the Archbishop of Paris to those who take part in the Forty Hours Devotion. It has passed through twelve editions in France, and been scattered by thousands. The present translation is beautifully made, and great care has been taken to correct all the Scripture references, which in most editions are very inaccurate.

This little book is so full of the spirit of love and devotion to our Lady, and of true and genuine piety, that we regret not having met it before: and we are so charmed with it that we cannot forbear to commend it to the attention of such of our readers as may be unacquainted with it.—Brownson's Review.

The Conversion of Marie Alphonse Ratisbonne.

The original narrative by Baron Theodore de Bussieres.

EDITED BY THE REV. WM. LOCKHART, OF THE ORDER OF CHARITY.

This narrative of one of the most wonderful miracles of Our Lady, cannot but be most acceptable to the Catholic community. The zealous labors of the Rev. Mr. Ratisbonne since his conversion have made him a new proof of the authenticity of the account.

1 vol. neat cloth,

Price—25 cents.

Get this little book and read it. It is the simple and authentic narration of one of the most signal miracles which God has wrought through our Immaculate Mother—His Immaculate Mother. We wish it might be circulated by hundreds of thousands.—Leader.

Whatever sceptics may say, this fact is patent—that Mr. Ratisbonne was, like St. Paul, a Jew; and that like St. Paul he was suddenly converted to Christianity. We have here an effect; we must therefore admit a cause. To those who question Mr. Ratisbonne's account of that cause, we would reply in the words of the man born blind, "One thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see."

Observations of the Press.

No other work of our day, on the same subject, can be compared to it. It is unrivalled for beauty of style and depth of erudition. It is the offering of a learned and devoted son of the Blessed Virgin, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of our Most Holy Father, to whom the work is dedicated. We are not more edified at the piety of the author, than astonished at the wonderful erudition displayed in the book. The translator has performed his task admirably.—Pittsburg Catholic.

Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God:

Taken from the Traditions of the East, the Manners of the Israelites, and the Writings of the Holy Fathers. From the French of M. L'ABBE ORSINI,

By the Rev. Patrick Power, D. D.

This translation from the French of the Abbe Orsini, who collected his facts from traditions of the East, the manners of the Israelites, and the Writings of the Holy Fathers, is written in a peculiarly graceful and felicitous style. The most prominent events in the life of the Blessed Virgin; her seclusion in the gorgeous temple of Solomon; her laborious life in the picturesque village of Nazareth; her sufferings on Calvary; her wanderings with St. John, and death at Ephesus, are brought before the mind with more than the vividness of painting. 16mo.

History of the Life and Institute of St. Ignatius Loyola,

FOUNDER OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS.

Translated from the Italian of Bartoli,

By Madame Calderon de la Barca,

Authoress of "Life in Mexico," &c. 2 volumes, small 8vo.

Price—English cloth, . . . $2 25

The works of Bartoli have long been esteemed as classics in Italy, for the beauty of their style and the genius of the author. His Life of St. Ignatius is not a mere biography of the Saint: it is a full history of his order, in its foundation, rise, spirit, and progress. It is, therefore, an historical work of rare value, presenting to Catholic readers, we may say, the only accessible account of the rise and institute of the Society of Jesus. The translator is one well known to the American public, no less for her literary talents, than for her many amiable qualities.

Notices of the Press.

"An excellent version of this narrative of the life of the energetic founder of the Society of Jesus."—Literary Gazette.

"The history of Ignatius and his wonderful order is told with great simplicity and eloquence in these volumes."—Daily News.

"At the present moment when the evils and the danger of Jesuitism are so loudly descanted upon by a certain faction of our free and enlightened fellow-citizens, would it not be well to fall back upon first principles and study in these volumes the purport, the significance, and power of the Society which Ignatius organized?"—U. S. Review.

"Few writers of the Italian language have equalled Father Bartoli in classical purity and beauty of style. This biography of the founder of the Society of Jesus charms and interests, while it edifies and instructs the reader."—Brownson's Review.

"The publication of this work fills a space which has been left too long unoccupied in the Catholic Literature of America."—Catholic Mirror.

There is no man so well fitted to be the historiographer of the Catholic Missions in America as John Gilmary Shea. . . . We say then, and wish it remembered and repeated, that this volume is one that every Catholic on the American Continent, who reads English ought to buy."—Freeman's Journal.

"Thornberry Abbey" is addressed especially to the most striking phase of modern religious controversy. High Church and Low, Puseyites and Evangelicals, and all the workings and results of the present remarkable movement, which divides and must destroy Anglican Protestantism, supply a subject of the utmost interest. The process by which the principal characters are conducted, some to the truth, others confirmed in error, is delineated with a force of style scarcely surpassed in any other similar work.

Translated and enlarged

By John Gilmary Shea,

Author of the "Discovery and Exploration of the Mississippi," "History of the Catholic Missions," &c.

1 vol. small 8vo. 600 pages.

This is a new work, giving a brief history of the Catholic Church in Maryland, Virginia and the Middle States, with much that bears on the general Catholic history of the country. Possessing many advantages for obtaining information, great industry and talent, Mr. de Courcy has here accumulated a most interesting series of sketches as to the rise of Catholicity, the early missionaries, the rise of the religious orders; and has added a full account of the mission of the Nuncio Archbishop Bedini, and an exposure of the slanders directed against him by a few designing men.

Mr. Shea's translation is augmented by additions of his own, and by a sketch of Catholicity in New York, made partly in connection with Mr. de Courcy.

Parts of this work issued in the St. Louis Leader have met with unqualified praise from the Catholic press. The following opinion of the Bishop of Louisville will outweigh many casual notices:

DEAR SIR:

"I rejoice that you are publishing the History of the American Church, commenced by the estimable Mr. De Courcy. The portions of the work which I have seen, are an earnest of its ability and usefulness.

" M. J. Spalding,

" Bp. of LOUISVILLE."

Home Library,

Oramaika; An Indian Story.

A charming little tale from the French, which, nevertheless, lays the scene in our own land, and depicts the Indian, with a much better appreciation of his real character than many a more pretentious work. The beauty of Catholicity, and power to support us in the hour of adversity, its magic influence in transforming the ruthless savage into a useful and happy member of society, are all beautifully portrayed.

Fashion; or, Siska Van Roosemael.

From the Flemish of HENDRIK CONSCIENCE. 18mo. With thirty-five illustrations.

Fashion is a Domestic Story, marked in a high degree by the author's peculiar humor, pathos, and power of description.

The point of the story is directed against the frivolities of modern fashionable life, and the folly of imitating them. The interior of the good old Flemish burgher's family is sketched with inimitable freshness and vigor.

Little Frank; or, A Painter's Progress: and What a Mother can Endure.

From the Flemish of HENDRIK CONSCIENCE. 1 vol. 18mo., profusely illustrated.

"Frank, or a Painter's Progress," the first of his Tales, is also one of his most interesting and effective. The story is simple and touching, and abounds in lessons of the domestic virtues. Has the merit of being the actual history of the early struggles of one of the first of living Belgian artists.

"What a Mother can Endure," is a shorter story, with a beautiful and striking moral, and contains passages of social suffering and patience hardly surpassed by any modern work of fiction.

Price—Cloth binding, . . . 0 37½

NOTICE.

These charming Tales of Hendrik Conscience which are now for the first time presented to the American public, are deservedly famous all over Modern Europe. His Tales of Domestic Life have long enjoyed the same rank in Belgian Literature which those of Miss Edgeworth have among English readers, with this favorable difference, that his productions are distinctly Christian in their morality.

Ailey Moore, a Tale of the Times.

Showing how evictions, murder, and such-like pastimes are managed, and justice administered, in Ireland, together with many stirring incidents in other lands.

By Father Baptist.

Two volumes, cloth, 75 Cents.

The title tells sufficiently the scene in which this stirring tale is laid—that land where Eviction and Souperism are making their last assault on the souls and bodies of the descendants of the ancient possessors of the soil. It is none the less seasonable for the clear distinction drawn between the would-be grievances of the Red Republicans of Europe and the real grievances of the Irish people. Indeed, “Ailey Moore” would furnish the King of Naples with a beautiful appeal to the English Government to reform the abuses of its own home administration.

NOTICE.

“The scope of the book is to show what wonderful effects true charity, guided by true religion, has to unite in the bonds of Christian love the various classes of society. There is in the breasts of all a chord of love and sympathy which may be reached by their fellow men. And it is only to Christian charity that this chord will respond in unison. This is what Father Baptist seeks to impress upon his readers, and his story, so persuasive, so true to life, is the best proof that he could offer his readers. It is a perfect model of a religious romance. We can safely recommend ‘Ailey Moore’ to our readers as one of the best Catholic tales that has been issued for some time.”—U. S. Catholic Miscellany.

NOTICES.

“It contains passages that every reader must admire, for their rare beauty and genuine pathos.”—Brownson's Review.

The Practical Spelling Book.

By Charles James Cannon.

This book is unhesitatingly offered as the best speller published, not only for fineness of paper and clearness of type, but for the admirable manner in which the lessons are graduated so as to overcome all the various difficulties. Teachers who have used it, agree that it renders the progress of the learner sure and rapid, while the beautiful maxims of St. Vincent of Paul, and St. Philip Neri, form admirable little reliefs from the monotony of spelling.

12mo. half bound, 168 pages.

Price—12½ cents.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Mr. Cannon has produced the most systematic and excellent manual that we are acquainted with for teaching the rudiments of the English language. He begins with some explanatory remarks on the different sounds of the Vowels, Consonants, &c., and their value in various positions. He then proceeds to give lessons, commencing with the letters of the alphabet and extending to words of the greatest length; but the arrangement is such as to lead the pupil gradually step by step in the knowledge of Spelling and Reading—each particular sound of the Vowels and Consonants, together with the Diphthongs and Triphthongs, has a lesson for its illustration; and at the head of each lesson this sound is stated, in order to bring it more forcibly to the reader's attention. Another excellent feature is, that every page contains one or more instructive sentences, intended not only to serve as lessons in reading, but to instil virtuous impressions into the minds of youth.

We have not seen any elementary work which struck us as so admirably adapted to the purpose of giving children a thorough understanding of the nature and rules of language, as this PRACTICAL SPELLING BOOK; for truly practical it is. It does not attempt to follow the modern fashion of seeking "The Royal Road to Knowledge," but aims to give the child a thorough understanding of ideas, rather than merely to learn words by rote. We strongly commend it to the examination of teachers and those interested in the education of youth.—Railway Advocate.

Lessons for Young Learners. Nos. 1 & 2.

To supply a want long felt and acknowledged—the want of School Books of a national character and a true Catholic Spirit—the subscribers have been urged to the present undertaking; and intend, under the above title, to publish a series of works designed for elementary instruction. Of this series, No. 1 and No. 2 are now ready; and in these it will be perceived that, while great pains have been taken to assist the learner in his attempts at mastering the rudiments of knowledge, the compiler, who is a Catholic gentleman of many years' experience in teaching, has endeavored to sow in the young mind the seeds of religion, which, it is hoped, will one day produce an abundant harvest of Christian virtues, without which all knowledge would be in vain.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

There was long a want seriously felt in the Catholic community in consequence of the difficulty, we may say impossibility, of placing in the hands of Catholic children any school-book in general use, entirely free from attacks on their religion and insults to their faith. The above books, containing reading and spelling lessons, are of an Educational Series intended to supply this want; and as parents must provide school-books for their children, it becomes a duty to give the preference to those especially provided for them; and in doing so nothing is lost, but much gained: for, apart from other considerations, and viewed only as school-books, these are inferior to none, and far superior to the majority now in use.—Pittsburg Catholic.

These two books of Lessons for Young Learners are not only admirably adapted for their purpose, as books of elementary instruction, by their good system, clear rules, and gradual progress from the easy to the difficult, but they are invaluable for their Catholic tendency—Prayers, Passages of Scripture, Portions of Bible History, narrated in a way to suit the capacity of children. Exquisite Hymns, Wood-cuts that combine good taste with piety, all conspire to impress strongly upon the young mind veneration for their religion.—Charleston Mercury.

We take pleasure in recommending them to the favorable attention of those who preside over schools and academies. The arrangement is of a very practical character, and thoroughly Catholic—precisely the book needed for the instruction of Catholic children, and to make elementary education truly Christian in character.—Catholic Mirror.

Outlines of History.

For the use of Schools and Academies.

By Pierce C. Grace, Esq.

This book has been selected and adopted by the Christian Brothers, as the most fit and useful history for the instruction of their pupils; and although compiled in America, has been republished and introduced into many of the Catholic Schools in England and Ireland, and the publishers are confident that it will be found superior to most of the books now in use; for while in simplicity of arrangement and conciseness of expression it is hardly inferior to any book of the kind in the English language, the Catholic spirit which pervades the whole prevents those contradictions between the facts stated, and the strange opinions they are made to support, so apparent in most of the histories intended for the use of Schools. 18mo.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.

JOHN MURPHY & CO.

BOOKSELLERS, PUBLISHERS, PRINTERS & STATIONERS,

Have the pleasure of announcing to their friends and the public, that they have removed from their old stand, 178, to the new and spacious five story Marble Building, 182 Baltimore street, second house West of their former stand, where they are constantly enlarging their stock and variety of BOOKS, PAPER, BLANK BOOKS, STATIONERY, and FOREIGN BOOKS, and continue the PRINTING, PUBLISHING and BOOK-BINDING departments of their business on a more extensive scale.

In returning thanks for the liberal encouragement extended for the last eighteen years at their old stand, they trust that their enlarged stock and increased facilities will meet with that liberal support which they hope to merit by the most rigid regard to the interests of all who may favor them with their custom in the various departments of their business.

In connection with the foregoing announcement, they beg to invite attention to their Enlarged Stock, comprising a very extensive and varied assortment of BOOKS in GENERAL LITERATURE, in every variety of plain and superb Bindings, to which constant additions are being made of all new works of merit, as soon as published.

Their stock of CATHOLIC BOOKS embraces, in addition to their own, all the American Publications, together with a large stock of English, Irish, French, and Belgian Editions, of the most approved works,—to which constant additions are being made by direct Importation.

FOREIGN BOOKS, RELIGIOUS ARTICLES, &c.—Their stock in this line comprises a very large assortment of MISSALS, BREVIARIES and LITURGICAL BOOKS,—also, THEOLOGICAL and ASCETIC WORKS, generally,—together with an extensive stock of FRENCH WORKS, in the various departments of Literature, including a great variety of Prayer and Devotional Books, in every variety of plain and elegant Bindings, to which constant additions are regularly made by direct Importation.

RELIGIOUS PICTURES, PRAYER BEADS, CRUCIFIXES, MEDALS, MEDALLIONS, STATUETTES, &c., &c.—Their stock in this line is extensive, embracing a great variety of styles and prices—and being imported direct, they are enabled to sell very low.

SCHOOL and CLASSICAL BOOKS, PAPER and STATIONERY.—Their stock in this line comprises everything requisite for Colleges, Schools, &c., &c.

BLANK BOOKS, PAPER, FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC STATIONERY, COMMERCIAL and LAW BLANKS, &c., &c.—Their stock in this line embraces every requisite for Counting-Houses, Banks, Rail Road Companies, Public Offices, &c.

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING, BOOK BINDING, &c.—Having united with their Bookstore, in the same building, an extensive Printing Office and Bookbindery, well supplied with the most approved materials, and experienced workmen, enable them to offer superior advantages and inducements for the prompt, careful and correct execution of every description of Book and Job Printing, Ruling and Book-binding, well worthy the attention of all who may require anything in this line.

They take pleasure in announcing to their friends and the public, that they have completed their arrangements, by which they are now enabled to keep constantly on hand a large and choice assortment of almost every thing required in connection with the Catholic Book Business. They deem it unnecessary to enlarge on the advantages, convenience, and saving of time and expense, which this combination and concentration of stock affords to Bookbuyers, Booksellers, Colleges, Academies, Religious Institutions, Libraries, &c. &c., in being able to purchase every thing at one place, at the very Lowest Rates, Wholesale and Retail.

THE METROPOLITAN:

A Monthly Magazine, devoted to Religion, Education, Literature, and General Information.

EDITED BY A COMMITTEE OF LITERARY GENTLEMEN.

Each number of the METROPOLITAN contains sixty-four pages, forming at the end of the year a handsome volume of nearly 800 pages, of the Most Choice Catholic Literature, Embellished with Fine Engravings. It is the Cheapest Catholic Monthly Periodical published in the English Language, and being the only one in this country, devoted to the interests of Catholicity, it appeals to the Catholic community for a liberal support. The preceding volumes have been enriched by contributions from the most distinguished Catholic writers in the country. The Series of Biographical Sketches of Distinguished Catholics will be continued—and no reasonable effort or expense will be spared on the part of the Publishers, to render it worthy of the liberal support heretofore extended.

TERMS.—To City Subscribers, $2 per annum, invariably in advance.

The work will be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the U. S., Canada and the Provinces, on the receipt of $2.
